The undersigned (the "Subscriber") hereby agrees with The Phoenix Credit Strategies Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the "Partnership"), as set forth below. Capitalized terms not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings set forth in the Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership (as amended and/or restated and in effect from time to time, the "Partnership Agreement"). If the Subscriber is a trustee subscribing on behalf of a trust, such as an IRA, a Keogh plan or another type of trust, and has so indicated on its signature page hereto and specified the type of trust on behalf of which the Subscriber is subscribing, references in this Subscription Agreement (the "Subscription Agreement" or the "Agreement") to the "Subscriber" are intended to refer to the trust rather than to the trustee individually unless the context otherwise requires.

1. Subscription. The Subscriber hereby irrevocably subscribes for a limited partnership interest in the Partnership (the "Interest") in accordance with and subject to the terms, provisions and conditions set forth herein and in the Partnership Agreement and, in connection therewith, agrees to become a limited partner (a "Limited Partner") of the Partnership subject to acceptance of this Subscription Agreement.

2. Acceptance/Rejection of Subscription; Payment. Acceptance of this Subscription Agreement shall be by the execution of this Subscription Agreement by The Phoenix Capital Ltd. (the "General Partner"), on behalf of the Partnership. The Subscriber understands that the General Partner reserves the right to reject the subscription evidenced by this Subscription Agreement in whole or in part for any reason whatsoever (the amount of the capital commitment, if any, accepted by the General Partner, on behalf of the Partnership, is specified on the Partnership's signature page hereto and is referred to herein as the Subscriber's "Subscription Amount" and is referred to in the Partnership Agreement as the Subscriber's Subscription). In the event that the subscription evidenced by this Subscription Agreement is rejected in whole by the General Partner, the subscription of the Subscriber herein shall become null and void. Upon such rejection, the Subscriber shall have no further obligations to the Partnership, except for such obligations of confidentiality as the Subscriber has agreed to by acceptance of the information relating to the Partnership (the "Investor Presentation") and Summary of Terms provided to the Subscriber by the General Partner. If the subscription evidenced by this Subscription Agreement is accepted by the General Partner, in whole or in part, the Subscriber shall be admitted to the Partnership as a Limited Partner on the date established by the Partnership. The Subscriber agrees to be bound by all the terms and provisions of the Partnership Agreement in the final form provided to the Subscriber prior to the Subscriber's admission to the Partnership, including, without limitation, the Subscriber's obligation to pay its Subscription Amount at the times and in the manner set forth in the Partnership Agreement, and acknowledges that the General Partner shall execute the Partnership Agreement for and on behalf of the Subscriber pursuant to the power of attorney contained in Section 22 of this Subscription Agreement. The Subscriber understands and agrees that, except as otherwise provided in the Partnership Agreement, the Subscriber may not make less than the full amount of any capital contribution or other payment required to be made under the Partnership Agreement or this Subscription Agreement, and that default provisions with respect thereto, pursuant to which the Subscriber may suffer substantial adverse consequences (including, but not limited to, the loss of all or a material portion of its investment in the Partnership), are contained in the Partnership Agreement.

3. Acknowledgements, Representations, Warranties and Agreements. The Subscriber acknowledges, represents, warrants and agrees that the following statements are true as of the date hereof and will be true as of the date the Partnership admits the Subscriber to the Partnership as a Limited Partner, if ever, and as of each date on which the Subscriber makes a capital contribution to the Partnership:

3.1 Subscriber Information. The Subscriber information specified by the Subscriber on Attachment B hereto is complete and correct. The Subscriber is not a member of the public in the Cayman Islands.

3.2 Subscriber's Diligence. The Subscriber has been furnished with, and has carefully read, the Partnership Agreement, and the Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that the Partnership Agreement supersede the Investor Presentation, Summary of Terms and any other offering materials previously made available to prospective investors. In considering his, her or its subscription, the Subscriber (a) has been given the opportunity to make a thorough investigation of the current and proposed activities of the Partnership, (b) has been furnished with all materials relating to the Partnership and its proposed activities that the Subscriber has requested, (c) has been afforded the opportunity to obtain any additional information necessary to verify the accuracy of any representations made or information conveyed to the Subscriber, and (d) has been given the opportunity to ask questions of, and receive answers from, the General Partner concerning the terms and conditions and other matters pertaining to an investment in the Partnership. In considering his, her or its subscription, the Subscriber has not relied upon any representations made by, or other information (whether oral or written) furnished by or on behalf of, the Partnership, any placement agent (if applicable), or any partner, member, manager, director, officer, employee or agent of the Partnership or any Affiliate of such persons, other than as set forth in this Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement. "Affiliate" means, with respect to any individual or entity, any person, directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the individual or entity and "control" with respect to an entity means the power to exercise a controlling influence over the management or policies of such entity. The Subscriber recognizes that an investment in the Partnership involves certain risks and the Subscriber understands and accepts such risks. The Subscriber has carefully considered and has, to the extent the Subscriber believes such discussion necessary, discussed with legal, tax, accounting, regulatory and financial advisers the suitability and potential risks of the subscription in light of his, her or its particular tax and financial situation, and has determined that the Interest is a suitable investment for him, her or it.

3.3 Subscriber's Sophistication. The Subscriber (either alone or together with any advisors retained by the Subscriber in connection with evaluating the merits and risks of the prospective investment in the Partnership) has sufficient knowledge and experience in financial and business matters so as to be capable of evaluating the merits and risks of subscribing for the Interest, and is able to bear the economic risk of its investment in the Partnership for an indefinite period of time, including a complete loss of capital. The Subscriber's decision to invest in the Partnership was made in the location indicated in Attachment B hereto as the address of the Subscriber's primary contact.

3.4 Subscriber Not an Advisory Client. The Subscriber acknowledges that: (a) neither The Phoenix Capital Ltd. nor any of its Affiliates nor any of their respective partners, members, managers, officers, employees or agents (each, a "Sponsor Party") has acted for the Subscriber or advised the Subscriber in connection with the Subscriber's subscription for the Interest; (b) accordingly, no Sponsor Party is responsible for providing the Subscriber with the protections afforded to clients of any Sponsor Party in connection with the Subscriber's subscription for the Interest; (c) no advisory services will be provided to the Subscriber and no duties will be owed to the Subscriber except in the Subscriber's capacity as a Limited Partner; and (d) the Subscriber has taken such advice from such other persons (if any) as the Subscriber considers appropriate. The Subscriber further acknowledges that Gross Law Firm (GKH) represents only the Partnership and the General Partner, and not the Subscriber, in connection with the formation of the Partnership and the offer and sale of the Interest, and that the Subscriber should consult his, her or its own legal and tax advisors in connection therewith.

3.5 Subscription for Investment Only. The Interest is being subscribed to for the Subscriber's own account and not for the account of any other person, for investment only and not with a view to, or with any intention of, a distribution or resale thereof, in whole or in part, or the grant of any participation therein.

3.6 No Derivative Transactions. The Subscriber has not entered into and will not enter into: (a) a swap, structured note or other derivative instrument with a third party, the return from which is based in whole or in part on the return of the Partnership; (b) a variable annuity or insurance policy with a third party, the value of which is based in whole or in part on the return of the Partnership; or (c) any other hedging transactions involving the Interest.

3.7 Employee Benefit Plan Status. The Subscriber understands that because it is the intent of the Partnership to operate in a manner such that the assets of the Partnership will not be "plan assets" subject to the provisions of Part 4 of Subtitle B of Title I of the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA") and/or Section 4975 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), the Subscriber must provide the Partnership with information necessary for the General Partner to determine whether the Partnership will be subject to the provisions of ERISA.

3.8 No Advisory Relationship to Partnership. Neither the Subscriber nor any of its Affiliates (a) has discretionary authority or control, or otherwise provides investment advice with respect to the assets of the Partnership or (b) provides investment advice for a fee, directly or indirectly, with respect to the assets of the Partnership.

3.9 Not a Registered Offering; Accredited Investor Status. The Subscriber is fully aware that the offering and sale of Interests, including the Interest being acquired by the Subscriber, have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or any applicable securities laws of any states or other jurisdictions and have been made in reliance upon federal and state exemptions for transactions not involving a public offering. The Subscriber acknowledges that at no time was the Subscriber presented with, or solicited by, any leaflet, public promotional meeting, newspaper or magazine article, radio or television advertisement or any other form of general advertising or general solicitation with respect to the Partnership.

3.10 Restrictions on Transfer. The Subscriber understands that the Interest cannot be resold or transferred unless it is subsequently registered under the applicable laws of any jurisdiction, or unless an exemption from such registration is available. The Subscriber also understands that any transfer of the Interest, or any part thereof, is subject to certain restrictions set forth in the Partnership Agreement, including without limitation, approval by the General Partner. The Subscriber further understands that, for the foregoing reasons, the Subscriber will be required to retain ownership of the Interest and bear the economic risk of an investment in the Interest for an indefinite period of time.

3.11 Investment Company Act Representations; Qualified Purchaser Status. The Subscriber acknowledges that the Partnership has not been and will not be registered as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Investment Company Act").

3.12 Independent Decision; Power and Authority; No Conflicts. If the Subscriber is an entity: (a) it was not formed or recapitalized (e.g., through new investments made in the Subscriber solely for the purpose of financing its acquisition of the Interest and not pursuant to a prior financial commitment) for the purpose of investing in the Partnership; (b) its decision to purchase the Interest was made in a centralized fashion (e.g., by a board of directors, general partner, manager, trustee, investment committee or similar governing or managing body); (c) it is not managed to facilitate the individual decisions of its beneficial owners regarding investments (including the purchase of the Interest); (d) its shareholders, partners, members or beneficiaries, as applicable, did not and will not (i) have any discretion to determine whether or how much of the Subscriber's assets are invested in any investment made by the Subscriber (including the Subscriber's purchase of the Interest), or (ii) have the ability individually to elect whether or to what extent such shareholder, partner, member or beneficiary, as applicable, will participate in the Subscriber's purchase of the Interest; (e) it is duly organized or formed, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of organization or formation; (f) the execution, delivery and performance by it of this Subscription Agreement and any other documents executed and delivered by the Subscriber in connection herewith (1) are within its powers, (2) have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate, governmental or other action on its behalf, (3) require no action by or in respect of, or filing with, any governmental body, agency or official, except as has been previously obtained and is in full force and effect, (4) did not require the passage of any statute or regulation specifically to authorize such actions, except as has been disclosed in writing to the General Partner, and (5) do not and will not contravene, or constitute a default under, any provision of applicable law or regulation or of its certificate of incorporation or other comparable organizational documents or any agreement, judgment, injunction, order, decree or other instrument to which the Subscriber is a party or by which the Subscriber or any of its properties is bound.

3.13 Natural Person Power and Capacity; No Conflicts. If the Subscriber is a natural person, the Subscriber represents that the execution, delivery and performance by the Subscriber of this Subscription Agreement and any other documents executed and delivered by the Subscriber in connection herewith are within the Subscriber's legal right, power and capacity, require no action by or in respect of, or filing with, any governmental body, agency or official (except as has been previously obtained and is in full force and effect), and do not and will not contravene, or constitute a default under, any provision of applicable law or regulation or of any agreement, judgment, injunction, order, decree or other instrument to which the Subscriber is a party or by which the Subscriber or any of his or her assets is bound.

3.14 Due Execution; Binding Agreement. This Subscription Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Subscriber and when the Partnership Agreement has been executed and delivered by or on behalf of the Subscriber by the General Partner pursuant to Section 22 of this Subscription Agreement, the Partnership Agreement will have been duly executed and delivered by or on behalf of the Subscriber. This Subscription Agreement constitutes, and if the Subscriber is accepted as a Limited Partner, then the Partnership Agreement will constitute, valid and binding agreements of the Subscriber, enforceable against the Subscriber in accordance with their respective terms, except to the extent that the enforcement of the rights and remedies created thereby is subject to (a) bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and other laws of general application affecting the rights and remedies of creditors generally and (b) general principles of equity (regardless of whether such enforceability is considered in a proceeding in equity or at law).

3.15 Privacy. The Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that the Partnership may disclose nonpublic personal information of the Subscriber to the Partnership's accountants, attorneys and other service providers as necessary to effect, administer and enforce the Partnership and the Partners' rights and obligations.

3.16 Tax Owner. The Subscriber represents and warrants that the Subscriber will be the beneficial owner of the Interest to be acquired pursuant to this Subscription Agreement and is not acquiring the Interest on behalf of or as nominee, agent or representative for another person.

3.17 Israeli Tax and Regulatory Status. The Subscriber makes the representations and warranties contained in Attachment C.

4. Representations of the Partnership and General Partner. The General Partner, for itself and on behalf of the Partnership, hereby represents and warrants that, as of the admission of the Subscriber to the Partnership:

4.1 Due Formation. The Partnership (a) has been duly formed, and is validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the Cayman Islands, and (b) has the requisite power and authority to issue the Interest, and to carry on its activities and to own its properties as contemplated by the Partnership Agreement.

4.2 Compliance. The General Partner is not in default in the performance of any obligation or agreement contained in the Partnership Agreement, or in violation in any material respect of any statute, regulation, law, order, writ, injunction, judgment or decree to which it is subject, except defaults or violations not reasonably expected to have a material adverse effect on the financial condition or business operations of the General Partner or materially restrict or impair its ability to comply with its obligations under the Partnership Agreement.

4.3 Consent and Approvals. No consent, approval or authorization is required for: (a) the due execution and delivery by the General Partner of the Partnership Agreement, or by the Partnership of this Subscription Agreement; and (b) the admission of the Limited Partners to the Partnership pursuant to the Partnership Agreement; other than such consents, approvals, authorizations and filings as have been obtained by the General Partner or the Partnership prior to the date hereof, or which are not required to be obtained by the General Partner or the Partnership until after the date hereof.

4.4 Due Authorization. The execution, delivery and performance by the Partnership of this Subscription Agreement is within its powers and has been duly authorized by all necessary action on its behalf. This Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement have been duly executed and delivered by the General Partner on its own behalf and on behalf of the Partnership, as applicable, and constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of the Partnership and the General Partner, as applicable, enforceable against the Partnership and the General Partner, as applicable, in accordance with their respective terms, except to the extent that the enforcement of the rights and remedies created thereby is subject to (a) bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and other laws of general application affecting the rights and remedies of creditors generally, and (b) general principles of equity (regardless of whether such enforceability is considered in a proceeding in equity or at law).

5. Tax Matters.

5.1 Acknowledgement of Withholding. The Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that under U.S. federal tax law and possibly under applicable non-U.S. or U.S. state or local law or as required by any other regulatory authority, the Partnership and/or its subsidiaries must withhold tax with respect to certain transfers of property and/or other income or activities of the Partnership and/or its subsidiaries. In addition, backup withholding may be required in certain circumstances.

5.2 Documentation Relating to Withholding. The Subscriber certifies that the information contained in the executed copy (or copies) of IRS Form W-9 or appropriate IRS Form W-8 (including any accompanying required documentation), as applicable, and Attachment B when submitted to the Partnership will, in each case, be true, correct and complete. The Subscriber shall (a) promptly inform the General Partner of any change in such information, and (b) furnish to the Partnership a new properly completed and executed IRS Form W-9 or appropriate IRS Form W-8 (and any accompanying required documentation), as applicable, and any of the applicable attachments, in each case as may be requested from time to time by the Partnership and/or as may be required under the Internal Revenue Service instructions to such forms, the Code or any applicable Treasury Regulations or other applicable regulatory requirements.

5.3 Additional Tax Information. The Subscriber shall promptly provide such information, documentation or certification as may be requested by the General Partner to determine whether withholding may be required with respect to the Subscriber's Interest or in connection with tax filings in any jurisdiction in which or through which the Partnership invests, directly or indirectly, including any information or certification required for the Partnership or its subsidiaries (or any other entity in which the Partnership directly or indirectly invests or any parallel fund or alternative investment vehicle) to comply with any tax reporting, tax withholding or tax payment obligations or information filing obligations of the Partnership or to obtain a reduced rate of, or exemption from, any applicable tax, whether pursuant to the laws of such jurisdiction or an applicable tax treaty. Such information may include, without limitation, information regarding the ultimate beneficial owners of the Subscriber. The Subscriber hereby acknowledges and agrees that the General Partner may provide any such information, documentation or certifications to any applicable tax authority. In the event that the Subscriber fails to provide such information regarding tax withholding, the General Partner, the Partnership, and their respective direct or indirect partners, members, officers, directors, employees, agents, service providers and their affiliates shall have no obligation or liability to the Subscriber with respect to any tax matters or obligations which may be assessed against the Subscriber or its beneficial owners.

5.4 Tax Reporting Requirements. The Subscriber understands and acknowledges that it is subject to and solely responsible for any and all income and other tax reporting requirements that may be imposed upon such Subscriber by any jurisdiction as a result of its investment in the Partnership, and agrees to comply with any such tax reporting requirements.

6. Anti-Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and OFAC Representations. The Subscriber represents and warrants that the amounts paid or to be paid by it to the Partnership in respect of this Subscription Agreement or the Partnership Agreement are not directly or, to the Subscriber's knowledge, indirectly derived from activities that may contravene U.S. federal or state or non-U.S. (including Cayman Islands and Israeli) laws or regulations, including laws and regulations governing money laundering and terrorist financing. The Subscriber also represents and warrants to, and agrees and covenants with, the Partnership, as of the date hereof, as of the date the Partnership admits the Subscriber to the Partnership as a Limited Partner, if ever, and as of each subsequent date on which the Subscriber acquires any additional interest in, makes a capital contribution to, or receives a distribution from the Partnership that, to its knowledge, none of (a) the Subscriber, (b) any person controlling or controlled by the Subscriber, (c) if the Subscriber is a privately held entity, any person having a beneficial interest in the Subscriber, or (d) if the Subscriber is a trustee, any beneficiary of the trust for which the Subscriber is acting as trustee in connection with this Subscription Agreement (those persons covered by (b), (c) and (d) collectively being referred to as "Related Parties") is (i) named on any list of prohibited persons, entities or jurisdictions maintained and administered by the U.S. Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC"), including, but not limited to, the Foreign Sanctions Evaders List (the "FSE List") the Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons List (the "SDN List") or otherwise covered by any other sanctions program administered by OFAC, (ii) named on the Black Lists maintained by the Israeli Money Laundering and Terror Financimg Prohibition Authoiry (the "IMPA" and "Israeli Black Lists", respectively), (iii) subject to economic or trade sanctions administered and enforced under any European Union or United Kingdom Regulations (as extended to the Cayman Islands by statutory instrument) and is not operationally based or domiciled in a country or territory in relation to which current sanctions have been issued by the United Nations, the European Union or the United Kingdom, (iv) a foreign shell bank or (v) a senior political figure, or an immediate family member or close associate of a senior political figure, or acting on behalf of a senior political figure. The FSE List, the SDN List and the other lists maintained and administered by OFAC can be found on the OFAC website at www.treas.gov/ofac, the Israeli Black Lists can be found on the IMPA website at https://www.justice.gov.il/Units/HalbantHon/Importantlinks/Pages/LawEnforcementBodiesInformationIsrael.aspx and the Subscriber should review the website before making this representation. The Subscriber agrees to promptly notify the Partnership should the Subscriber become aware of any change in the information set forth in this Section 6.

7. Anti-Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and OFAC Compliance. The Subscriber acknowledges that, to comply with anti-money laundering and related requirements that are applicable to the Partnership or the General Partner, the General Partner may at any time require such information as the General Partner deems necessary to establish the identity of the Subscriber and any Related Parties and may seek to verify such identity and the source of funds used by the Subscriber to make payments under this Subscription Agreement or the Partnership Agreement. If the General Partner deems it necessary, for other reasons, to comply with anti-money laundering and related requirements applicable to the Partnership or the General Partner, including, without limitation, as a result of any delay or failure by the Subscriber or any Related Party to produce any information required for identification, identity verification and/or source-of-funds confirmation purposes, the General Partner, on behalf of the Partnership, may refuse to accept this Subscription Agreement and/or all or any portion of the subscription or any capital contribution and may return any funds received to the account from which such funds were sent (unless such return is, in the judgment of the General Partner, contrary to applicable law or regulation or contrary to the dictate of law enforcement officials, in which case the funds may be blocked or retained). The Subscriber acknowledges that the General Partner may refuse to make any distribution or other payment to the Subscriber if the General Partner determines, suspects, or is advised that such distribution or payment might result in a violation of any applicable anti-money laundering or other laws or regulations by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or such refusal is considered by the General Partner necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the General Partner with any such laws or regulations in any relevant jurisdiction. The Subscriber acknowledges that the General Partner or the Partnership may be required to report transactions that raise suspicions of money laundering violations and to disclose the identity of the Subscriber and any Related Parties to appropriate government authorities. The Subscriber further understands and agrees that the Partnership and the General Partner may undertake any actions that the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate to ensure compliance with applicable laws, rules and regulations, including, without limitation, requiring the Subscriber's withdrawal from the Partnership pursuant to the Partnership Agreement in the event that the representations by the Subscriber in Section 6 are incorrect, the Subscriber or any Related Party fails to produce any information required by the General Partner pursuant to this Section 7 or for any other reason the Subscriber's participation in the Partnership violates any statute, rule or regulation. The Subscriber agrees to indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Person (as defined in Section 11) with respect to any liability, loss, claim, cost, damage or expense (a) arising as a result of a failure to process or accept any subscription or any capital contribution, the refusal to make a distribution or other payment under the terms of this Section 7 or the Subscriber's withdrawal from the Partnership pursuant to the Partnership Agreement due to any of the events described in the foregoing sentence, or (b) which the Partnership or the General Partner may suffer as a result of any violations of law, rule or regulation committed by the Subscriber. The Subscriber acknowledges and understands that if, as a result of any information or other matter which comes to its attention, any person resident in the Cayman Islands knows or suspects or has reasonable grounds for knowing or suspecting that another person is engaged in criminal conduct or is involved with terrorism or terrorist property and the information for that knowledge or suspicion came to their attention in the course of business in the regulated sector, or other trade, profession, business or employment, the person will be required to report such knowledge or suspicion to (i) the Financial Reporting Authority of the Cayman Islands, pursuant to the Proceeds of Crime Act of the Cayman Islands (as revised) if the disclosure relates to criminal conduct or money laundering, or (ii) a police officer of the rank of constable or higher, or the Financial Reporting Authority, pursuant to the Terrorism Act (as revised) of the Cayman Islands, if the disclosure relates to involvement with terrorism or terrorist financing and property, and such a report will not be treated as a breach of confidence or of any restriction upon the disclosure of information imposed by any enactment or otherwise.

8. AEOI. The Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that:

(a) the Partnership is required to comply with the provisions of AEOI (as defined below);

(b) the Subscriber will provide, in a timely manner, such information regarding the Subscriber and its beneficial owners and "controlling persons" and such forms or documentation as may be requested from time to time by the Partnership (whether by the General Partner or other agents) to enable the Partnership to comply with the requirements and obligations imposed on it pursuant to AEOI, including, but not limited to, forms and documentation which the Partnership may require to determine whether or not the relevant investment is a "Reportable Account" (under any AEOI regime) and to comply with the relevant due diligence procedures in making such determination, and it will promptly notify the Partnership of any change to the information provided pursuant hereto;

(c) any such forms or documentation requested by the Partnership, or its agents pursuant to paragraph (b) above, or any financial or account information with respect to the Subscriber's investment in the Partnership, may be disclosed to the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority (or any other Cayman Islands or other governmental body which collects information in accordance with AEOI) and to any other person, regulatory authority or withholding agent where the provision of that information is required by such person, regulatory authority or withholding agent to avoid the application of any withholding tax on any payments to the Partnership or other repercussions under AEOI;

(d) the Subscriber waives, and/or shall cooperate with the Partnership to obtain a waiver of, the provisions of any law or regulation which:

(i) prohibit the disclosure by the Partnership or by any of its agents, of the information or documentation requested from the Subscriber pursuant to paragraph (b) above;

(ii) prohibit the reporting of financial or account information by the Partnership or its agents required pursuant to AEOI;

(iii) otherwise prevent compliance by the Partnership with its obligations under AEOI;

(e) if the Subscriber provides information and documentation that is in any way misleading, or it fails to provide the Partnership or its agents with the requested information and documentation necessary in either case to satisfy the Partnership's obligations under AEOI, the Partnership reserves the right (whether or not such action or inaction leads to compliance failures by the Partnership, or a risk of the Partnership or its investors being subject to withholding tax or other costs, debts, expenses, obligations or liabilities (whether external, or internal, to the Partnership) (together, including withholding taxes, "costs") under AEOI):

(i) to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at its disposal including, without limitation, compulsory redemption or withdrawal of the Subscriber and/or the exchange or conversion of the Subscriber's Units for another class of Units that will be allocated such costs; and

(ii) to hold back from any distributions, including the proceeds of withdrawals, dividend payments or any other distributions, or to deduct from the Subscriber's capital account, any costs caused (directly or indirectly) by the Subscriber's action or inaction; and

(f) the Subscriber shall have no claim against the Partnership or its agents, for any form of damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Partnership in order to comply with AEOI.

The Subscriber hereby agrees to indemnify the Partnership, the General Partner and each of their respective affiliates, principals, members, partners, managers, officers, directors, stockholders, employees and agents and holds them harmless from and against any AEOI related liability, action, proceeding, claim, demand, costs, damages, expenses (including legal expenses), penalties, interest or taxes whatsoever which the Partnership, the General Partner, the Administrator, the Investment Manager and/or such other persons may incur as a result of any action or inaction (directly or indirectly) of the Subscriber (or any related person) described in paragraphs (a) through (f) above. This indemnification shall survive the Subscriber's death, dissolution or disposition of its Units.

For the purposes of the foregoing provisions, "AEOI" means:

(a) Sections 1471 to 1474 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and any associated legislation, regulations or guidance, and any other similar legislation, regulations or guidance enacted in any other jurisdiction which seeks to implement similar financial account information reporting and/or withholding tax regimes;

(b) the OECD Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters – the Common Reporting Standard (the "CRS") and any associated guidance;

(c) any intergovernmental agreement, treaty, regulation, guidance, standard or other agreement between the Cayman Islands (or any Cayman Islands government body) and any other jurisdiction (including any government bodies in such jurisdiction), entered into in order to comply with, facilitate, supplement or implement the legislation, regulations, guidance or standards described in sub-paragraphs (a) and (b) above; and

(d) any legislation, regulations or guidance in the Cayman Islands that give effect to the matters outlined in the preceding sub-paragraphs.

9. Additional Information. The Subscriber agrees to supply any additional written information concerning the representations in this Subscription Agreement or any other matter relevant to the compliance of the Partnership or the General Partner with applicable law, that the General Partner may reasonably request from time to time.

10. Confirmation of Representations. The Subscriber shall (a) be deemed to have confirmed the accuracy of the representations in this Subscription Agreement, including the attachments hereto, to the Partnership as of the date the General Partner, on behalf of the Partnership, accepts this Subscription Agreement and each subsequent date on which the Subscriber acquires any additional interest in the Partnership or makes a capital contribution to the Partnership, (b) promptly notify the Partnership if the Subscriber becomes aware that such representations are, at any time, inaccurate in any respect and (c) furnish the Partnership with such updated information as may be necessary in order to ensure that the Subscriber's responses to all portions of this Subscription Agreement are, at all times, accurate and complete.

11. Indemnification. The Subscriber shall indemnify and hold harmless the General Partner, the Partnership and their respective partners, members, directors, managers, officers, employees, agents, Affiliates, successors, heirs and assigns (collectively, the "Indemnified Persons") from and against any losses, claims, damages, liabilities, costs or expenses to which any of them may become subject arising out of or based upon any false representation or warranty, or any breach of or failure to comply with any covenant or agreement, made by the Subscriber in this Subscription Agreement or in any other document furnished to the Partnership in connection with the Subscriber's acquisition of the Interest. The Subscriber will also reimburse each Indemnified Person for their reasonable legal and other expenses (including the cost of any investigation and preparation) as they are incurred in connection with any action, proceeding or investigation arising out of or based upon the foregoing. The indemnity and reimbursement obligations of the Subscriber under this Section 11 shall be in addition to any liability which the Subscriber may otherwise have (including, without limitation, liability under the Partnership Agreement).

12. Disclosure of Information. The Subscriber consents to the disclosure by the General Partner and the Partnership of the Subscriber's identity, investment in the Partnership and qualification to invest in the Partnership (e.g., the Subscriber's status as an Accredited Investor), as well as any relationship between the Subscriber and the General Partner: (a) to existing and prospective investors in the Partnership and any other investment funds, accounts or programs sponsored or managed by the General Partner or its Affiliates; (b) to any bank or other party with whom the Partnership has or intends to conduct business that has requested such information; (c) to any regulatory authority having jurisdiction over the Partnership, the General Partner, any Limited Partner or any of their respective Affiliates or any regulatory authority that requests such information in connection with any Partnership matter, including any proposed investment or disposition of an investment; (d) in connection with any litigation or other dispute or otherwise as necessary or appropriate to enforce the terms of the Partnership Agreement or this Agreement; (e) to any partners, members, managers, directors, officers, employees, agents, administrators, attorneys, accountants or other service providers of the Partnership, the General Partner or any of their respective Affiliates; (f) as required by any law, rule or regulation or in response to any subpoena or other legal process; and (g) otherwise as the General Partner deems reasonably necessary for the conduct of the Partnership's business.

13. Subscription Not Transferable. Neither this Subscription Agreement nor the rights or obligations of the Subscriber accruing or arising pursuant to this Subscription Agreement shall be transferable without the General Partner's prior written consent, which consent may be withheld for any or no reason.

14. Binding Agreement. This Subscription Agreement shall be binding upon the heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns of the Subscriber, subject to the requirements of Section 13, and, if accepted by the Partnership, shall be binding upon the Partnership's successors and assigns.

15. Survival. All of the agreements, representations and warranties made by the Subscriber in this Subscription Agreement, including its attachments, shall survive the execution of the Partnership Agreement on behalf of the Subscriber by the General Partner pursuant to Section 22 of this Subscription Agreement.

16. Account Information. The Subscriber elects to be paid all cash distributions and other amounts payable to the Subscriber by the Partnership in the form (either by wire transfer or check) and to the account or address indicated in writing to the General Partner. If no other election is made by the Subscriber, all cash distributions will be paid in the form of a check sent to the address indicated on Attachment B. The Partnership is authorized to pay such distributions in such form and to such account until five (5) Business Days after it has received from the Subscriber, in writing, new payment instructions. None of the Indemnified Persons shall have any liability for any distribution or payment paid in the manner and to the account or address elected by the Subscriber, or as subsequently modified in writing by the Subscriber.

17. Waiver; Modification. Neither this Subscription Agreement nor any provision hereof may be waived, modified, discharged or terminated except by an instrument in writing signed by the party against whom such waiver, modification, discharge or termination is sought to be enforced.

18. Headings; Interpretation. Section and subsection headings used herein are for convenience of reference only, are not part of this Subscription Agreement and shall not be considered in interpreting this Subscription Agreement. Whenever the context of this Subscription Agreement permits, the neuter gender shall include the feminine and masculine genders, and references to singular or plural shall be interchangeable with each other.

19. Integration. This Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement constitute the entire agreement among the parties hereto pertaining to the subject matter hereof and supersede all prior and contemporaneous agreements and understandings of the parties in connection therewith. No covenant, representation or condition not expressed in this Subscription Agreement or the Partnership Agreement shall affect, or be effective to interpret, change or restrict, the express provisions of this Subscription Agreement.

20. Separability. Each provision of this Subscription Agreement shall be considered separable and if for any reason any provision or provisions hereof are determined to be invalid and contrary to any existing or future law, such invalidity shall not impair the operation of or affect those portions of this Subscription Agreement that are valid and such invalid provision shall be deemed severed from the remainder of this Subscription Agreement and replaced with a valid provision as similar in intent as reasonably possible to the provision so severed.

21. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts with the same effect as if the parties executing the counterparts had all executed one counterpart. Facsimiles or other electronic forms of signatures (including ".pdf") shall be deemed to be originals.

22. Power of Attorney. The Subscriber hereby grants to the General Partner a special power of attorney, making, constituting and appointing the General Partner as the Subscriber's attorney-in-fact, with power and authority to act in the Subscriber's name and on the Subscriber's behalf to execute, acknowledge, file and swear to the execution, acknowledgment and filing of the Partnership Agreement in the final form provided to the Subscriber prior to the Subscriber's admission to the Partnership as well as any other documents as shall be necessary or appropriate to admit the Subscriber as a Limited Partner in accordance with the terms of the Partnership Agreement and this Agreement or to create, operate, dissolve or liquidate the Partnership in accordance with the terms of the Partnership Agreement and this Agreement. This special power of attorney is a special power of attorney coupled with an interest, is irrevocable, and shall survive the death or legal incapacity of the Subscriber. The Subscriber hereby agrees with the General Partner that the undersigned will comply with and observe all of the agreements and covenants of the Limited Partners contained in the Partnership Agreement as if the undersigned had been an original party thereto and as if the same were herein set out in full. In the event of conflict between the Partnership Agreement and any other document executed, acknowledged or filed pursuant to this power of attorney, the Partnership Agreement shall control.

23. Governing Law. This Subscription Agreement shall be governed by, and interpreted and construed in accordance with, the internal laws of the Cayman Islands, without regard to its principles of conflict of laws. This Subscription Agreement is intended to constitute, and shall be deemed to have been executed as a "deed" within the meaning of applicable Cayman Islands law.

24. Arbitration. If any dispute arising out of or in connection with this Subscription Agreement is not amicably resolved between the parties within 60 days from the date first raised in writing by a party, any party may elect to require that the dispute be submitted to Arbitration (as defined herein) as provided below by delivering a written notice (the "Arbitration Demand Notice") to the other party of its demand for Arbitration. In such event the parties shall mutually discuss the identity of the arbitrator who shall be a person with a legal background (the "Arbitrator"). To the extent that the parties do not agree with respect to the identity of the Arbitrator within 30 days of the Arbitration Demand Notice, then the Arbitrator will be selected by the Chairman of the Israeli Bar. The Arbitrator shall serve under the Israeli Arbitration Law, 1968 to resolve the dispute (the "Arbitration"). The Arbitration shall take place in a mutually acceptable neutral site within the State of Israel. The Arbitration shall be conducted under such procedural rules as determined by the Arbitrator, provided that the Arbitrator shall not be bound by any specific rules of procedure or evidence. After due consideration of all of the evidence submitted by the parties, in accordance with the procedural rules determine by the Arbitrator, the Arbitrator shall issue a written decision and award. The decision and award of the Arbitrator shall (i) be in writing, stating the grounds for the decision in reasonable detail, specifying findings of fact and conclusions of law; and (ii) be final and binding upon the parties. Judgment upon such decision and award may be entered in any competent court or application may be made to any competent court for judicial acceptance of such decision and award and an order of enforcement. Each party shall bear its own attorney's fees, costs and expenses in connection with the Arbitration and the fees and expenses of the Arbitrator shall be shared equally by the parties unless otherwise provided in the Arbitrator's decision and award. This Section 24 shall constitute an arbitration agreement under the Israeli Arbitration Law, 1968. The Arbitrator shall have the authority to issue preliminary judgments and to grant interim remedies, including injunctions and attachments.

25. Notices. Any notice, demand, request or other communication that may be required or contemplated herein shall be sufficiently given in accordance with the notice provisions of the Partnership Agreement.

26. Changes to Partnership Agreement. The Subscriber acknowledges that the Partnership Agreement may be amended or modified after the Subscriber has delivered signed documents to the General Partner and prior to the admission of the Subscriber as a Limited Partner. Unless the Subscriber has elected (by checking the appropriate box on its signature page) that this Section 25 not apply to the Subscriber, the Subscriber agrees that unless the Subscriber gives written notice to the General Partner within three (3) business days of receiving any proposed changes to the form of Partnership Agreement previously delivered to the Subscriber electing to terminate the Subscriber's subscription, the Subscriber shall be deemed to have agreed to such changes in the Partnership Agreement and agrees that the General Partner may execute the Partnership Agreement reflecting those changes for and on behalf of the Subscriber pursuant to the power of attorney contained in Section 22 of this Agreement.

26. Third-Party Rights.

26.1 A person who is not a party to this Subscription Agreement has no right under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act, 2014 of the Cayman Islands (as amended, modified, re-enacted or replaced, the "Third Party Rights Act") to enforce directly any term of this Subscription Agreement, save that each Indemnified Person may enforce directly its rights pursuant to Sections 7, 8, 11 and 16, as applicable, of this Subscription Agreement subject to and in accordance with the provisions of the Third Party Rights Act.

26.2 Notwithstanding any other term of this Subscription Agreement, the consent of any person who is not a party to this Subscription Agreement (including, without limitation, any Indemnified Person) is not required for any variation of, amendment to, or release, rescission, or termination of, this Subscription Agreement.

ATTACHMENT A

RISK FACTORS & POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Risk Factors

All hedge, private equity and credit funds risk the loss of capital. No guarantee or representation is made that the Fund will achieve its investment objectives or that investors will not suffer loss. An investment in the Fund is highly speculative and involves certain risks, potential conflicts of interest and tax considerations that prospective investors should consider before subscribing and, therefore, should be undertaken only by investors capable of evaluating and bearing the risks of the Fund. Prospective investors should carefully consider the following factors in connection with the acquisition of Units in the Fund. The following is not a complete description of all risks involved in connection with an investment in the Fund. There can be no assurance that the Fund will be able to implement its investment strategy or achieve its investment objective or that Limited Partners will receive a return on their capital. A potential investor should not invest in the Fund unless such investor is able to withstand a total loss of its investment. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known or that the General Partner currently deems to be immaterial also may materially adversely affect an investment in the Fund and the Fund's business, financial condition and/or operating results. Prospective investors should ensure that they understand the Fund's investment and operational strategy and the degree of risk associated therewith, that they have sufficient knowledge, experience and access to professional advisors to make their own fully independent legal, tax, accounting and financial evaluations of the merits and risks of an investment in the Fund and that they consider the suitability of such investments in the context of their own circumstances and financial condition. The following discusses certain risks that may arise in connection with investing in the Fund and in the management and operation of the Fund.

Risks Associated with Investing in the Fund

Lack of Operating History; Relation to Other Investment Results. The Fund is a newly formed entities and has no operating history. There can be no assurance that the results achieved by the General Partner in his capacity as a general partner in other funds or in other investment activity will be achieved for the Fund. Past performance should not be relied upon as an indication of future results. In that regard, the returns and performance of said General Partner's activity is not indicative of the future returns or performance of the Fund. In addition, the nature of, and risks associated with, the Fund's future investments may differ substantially from those investments and strategies undertaken historically by the General Partner. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective or that the Fund will be able to avoid losses.

Inability to Meet Investment Objective or Investment Strategy*. The Fund is intended for long-term investors who can accept the risks associated with investing primarily in credit funds managed by funds managed by the Pollen Street group (the "PSC Funds")and other assets. The success of the Fund depends on the PSC Funds' ability to identify and select appropriate investment opportunities, as well as the PSC Funds' and the Fund's ability to acquire and dispose of those investments. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment or performance objectives, including any targeted returns, or that the General Partner will be successful in identifying a sufficient number of suitable investment opportunities to fully deploy the Fund's committed capital. The possibility of partial or total loss of the Fund's capital exists, and prospective investors should not subscribe for Units unless they can readily bear the consequences of a complete loss of their investments.

Indeterminate Size of the Fund. While the Fund is seeking to raise up to five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000), the initial closing of the Fund may occur following receipt of Capital Commitments for a substantially smaller amount. There is a risk that the Fund will obtain Capital Contributions totaling less, and potentially significantly less, than the amount sought to be raised from investors. If the aggregate size of the Fund is less than the targeted $500 million, the amount and nature of investments currently contemplated by the General Partner may be adversely affected, the opportunity for diversification of the investments will be materially decreased, and the returns on those investments likely will be reduced as a result of allocating Fund expenses among fewer investments. In addition, without broad diversification, the risk of loss to the Fund and the Limited Partners is much greater.

Unspecified Use of Proceeds. The proceeds from the issuance of the Units are intended to be invested in the PSC Funds following the identification of Portfolio Investments that have not yet been identified, evaluated or acquired by the PSC Funds. The PSC Funds' Portfolio Investments will vary over time and from time to time depending upon the availability of potential Portfolio Investments, the PSC Funds' assessment of market conditions, prevailing interest rates and relative values and other factors and considerations.

Competition. The business of investing in Portfolio Investments meeting the PSC Fund's investment objective is highly competitive. Competition for investment opportunities includes a growing number of strategic investors, hedge funds, private equity funds and other private investors, more traditional financial institutions, and established strategic investors. Some of these competitors may have access to greater amounts of capital and to capital that may be committed for longer periods of time or may have different return thresholds than the Fund, and thus these competitors may have advantages not shared by the Fund. Increased competition for, or a diminishment in the available supply of, investments suitable for the Fund could result in lower returns on such investments. Identification of attractive investment opportunities is difficult and involves a high degree of uncertainty. The Fund may incur significant expenses in connection with identifying investment opportunities and investigating other potential investments which are ultimately not consummated, including cost of brokers, due diligence, travel, legal expenses and the fees of other advisors.

No Assurance of Return of Invested Capital. The General Partner cannot provide assurance that it will be able to identify, acquire, and/or dispose of any particular portfolio investments. There can be no assurance that the Fund will be able to generate returns for its Limited Partners or that the returns will be commensurate with the risks of investing in the types of investment objectives of the Fund. There can be no assurance that any Limited Partner will receive any distribution from the Fund. Any return on investment to the Limited Partners will depend upon successful investments being made and disposed of by the Fund. The marketability and value of any Portfolio Investment will depend upon many factors beyond the control of the PSC Fund, the General Partner and the Fund. The expenses of the Fund may exceed its income, and a Limited Partner could lose the entire amount of its Capital Contributions. Therefore, an investor should only invest in the Fund if the investor can withstand a total loss of its Capital Contribution.

Dependence on Key Personnel. The success of the PSC Fund will be highly dependent on the expertise and performance of the investment professionals of the relevant persons at the PSC Fund. There can be no assurance that the current investment professionals of the PSC Fund will continue to be associated with the PSC Fund, or any of their affiliates throughout the life of the Fund. The loss of the services of one or more of these individuals could have a material adverse effect on the activities and performance of the PSC Fund and thus of the Fund. Furthermore, although investment professionals of the PSC Fund and the Fund may spend a significant amount of their business time and attention on the Fund, they will not be required to devote all of their business time, respectively, to affairs of the PSC Fund and the Fund. Further, although advisors may provide certain services to the PSC Fund and the Fund, such advisors are under no obligation to devote any of their time and/or attention to the PSC Fund or the Fund.

Misconduct of Employees and Third-Party Service Providers. Misconduct or misrepresentations by investment professionals and other employees of the PSC Funds, the General Partner or by third party service providers could cause significant losses to the Fund. Employee misconduct may include binding the PSC Funds or the Fund to transactions that exceed authorized limits or present unacceptable risks and unauthorized activities, concealing unsuccessful activities (which, in either case, may result in unknown and unmanaged risks or losses) or making misrepresentations regarding any of the foregoing. Losses could also result from actions by third party service providers, including, without limitation, failing to recognize transactions and misappropriating assets. In addition, employees and third-party service providers may improperly use or disclose confidential information, which could result in litigation or material adverse financial consequences, including limiting the PSC Funds' or the Fund's business prospects or future marketing activities. Despite the General Partner's due diligence efforts, misconduct and intentional misrepresentations may be undetected or not fully comprehended, thereby potentially undermining such due diligence efforts. As a result, no assurances can be given that the due diligence performed by the General Partner will identify or prevent any such misconduct.

Investments Longer than Term. The Fund may make investments that may not be advantageously disposed of prior to the date that the Fund will be dissolved, liquidated and wound-up, either by expiration of the Fund's term or otherwise. As a result, the Fund may be required to sell, distribute in-kind or otherwise dispose of investments at a disadvantageous time as a result of dissolution.

Early Termination of Investment Period; Early Termination of the Fund. If, pursuant to and in accordance with the terms of the Partnership Agreement, the Investment Period is terminated earlier than anticipated, there can be no certainty regarding the Fund's ability to consummate investment opportunities thereafter. It is possible that the Fund may be dissolved and terminated prematurely, and, as a result, may not be able to accomplish its objectives and may be required to dispose of its investments at a disadvantageous time or make an in-kind distribution (resulting in Limited Partners not having their capital invested and/or deployed in the manner originally contemplated).

Distributions In-Kind. During the term of the Fund, the General Partner may make in kind distributions of marketable securities. In addition, it is possible that not all Portfolio Investments will be realized by the end of the Fund's term. In such cases, in the General Partner's discretion, the Fund may make distributions in kind of illiquid securities or instruments to the Partners. There can be no assurance that Limited Partners will be able to dispose of such securities or instruments or that the fair value of such securities or instruments determined by the Fund for purposes of the determination of distributions and the calculation of the Carried Interest Distributions ultimately will be realized. In addition, if the Fund receives distributions in-kind from any Portfolio Investments, it may incur additional costs and risks in connection with the disposition of such assets.

Follow-On Investments. Following its initial investment in a Portfolio Investment, the Fund may provide additional funds to such Portfolio Investment. There can be no assurance that the Fund will make any or all of such follow-on investments or that the Fund will have sufficient capital to do so. Any decision by the Fund not to make follow-on investments or its inability to make such investments may have a material adverse effect on a Portfolio Investment in need of such an investment. Additionally, a failure to make such investments may result in a lost opportunity for the Fund to increase its participation in a successful Portfolio Investment or the dilution of the Fund's ownership in a Portfolio Investment if a third party invests in the Portfolio Investment.

Reserves. The General Partner will establish reserves for investments and follow-on investments, actual or anticipated Fund expenses (including Management Fees), and any other liabilities and obligations. Estimating the appropriate amount of such reserves is difficult, especially for follow-on investment opportunities, which are directly tied to the capital needs of Portfolio Investments. Inadequate or excessive reserves could have a material adverse effect on the investment returns of the Fund. If reserves are inadequate, the Fund may be unable to take advantage of attractive follow-on or other investment opportunities or to protect its existing investments from dilutive or other punitive terms associated with so-called "pay-to-play" or similar provisions. If reserves are excessive, the Fund may not be able to acquire one or more investment opportunities.

Borrowing and Guarantees. To the extent the Fund incurs leverage (or provides guarantees) through a credit facility, pursuant to the Partnership Agreement, the Fund or any subsidiary vehicle may pledge the assets of the Fund and may make a collateral assignment to any lender or other credit party of the Fund of the General Partner's rights, titles, interests, remedies, powers or privileges of the Fund or the General Partner.

In addition, the PSC Funds' investments may involve companies whose capital structures have significant leverage. These companies may be subject to restrictive financial and operating covenants. The leverage may impair these companies' ability to finance their future operations and capital needs. Such investments will be inherently more sensitive to adverse economic factors such as rising interest rates, downturns in the economy or deteriorations in the condition of the companies or their industry.

Default on Capital Contributions. Limited Partners must at all times during the term of the Fund maintain sufficient liquidity to meet capital contributions. To the extent capital contributions are not funded in the required time, the Fund may suffer consequences, economic or otherwise. If a Limited Partner fails to timely fund its capital commitment, the General Partner may in its discretion exercise one or more remedies as provided in the Partnership Agreement.

Illiquidity of Fund Units. The Units will not be registered under any state securities laws and may not be transferred unless registered under applicable federal and state securities laws or unless an exemption from such laws is available. The Fund has no plans, and is under no obligation, to register the Units under any state securities laws. No market exists for the Units, and none is expected to develop. Units may not be sold, assigned, participated, pledged or otherwise transferred without the prior written consent of the General Partner, which consent may be given or withheld in its discretion for any reason or no reason at all, which may materially limit any transfer rights that Limited Partners may otherwise have. Transfers of Units that are effected without compliance with the Partnership Agreement will not be recognized by the Fund. In addition, Units may not be voluntarily withdrawn. The restrictions on voluntary withdrawal, along with the restrictions on transfer described above, make the Units illiquid investments which should only be purchased by a person that is able to bear the risk of its investment in Units for a substantial period of time.

Limited Recourse to General Partner; Indemnification. The Partnership Agreement will limit the circumstances in which the General Partner and other persons will be held liable to the Fund or the Limited Partners. As a result, Limited Partners may have a more limited right of action in certain cases than they would in the absence of such a limitation. In addition, except under certain circumstances described in the Partnership Agreement, the Fund will be required to indemnify, among others, the General Partner and its directors, officers, partners, members, employees, agents, and other affiliates, and other persons who serve or provide services and resources at the request of the General Partner on behalf of the Fund and members of the Advisory Board, for liabilities incurred in connection with the affairs of the Fund. Such liabilities may be material and may have an adverse effect on the returns to the Limited Partners. The indemnification obligations of the Fund would be payable from the assets of the Fund. If the assets of the Fund are insufficient, the General Partner may recall certain distributions previously made to the Limited Partners (as further described in the Partnership Agreement).

All Partner Clawback. The General Partner may require each Partner to return distributions made to such Partner for the purpose of meeting such Partner's pro rata share of any liability incurred by the Fund, subject to certain limitations contained in the Partnership Agreement.

Failure to Vote by a Limited Partner. From time to time, the General Partner may require or otherwise solicit the consent, vote, determination, or waiver of Limited Partners in connection with any proposed action or event relating to the Fund. The outcome of any such consent, vote, determination, or waiver may potentially adversely impact any Limited Partner and the actual wishes of such Limited Partner may not necessarily be taken into account in determining the outcome of any such solicitation by the General Partner.

No Participation by Limited Partners. The Limited Partners will have no right or power to participate in the management or control of the business of the Fund and thus must depend solely on the ability of the General Partner with respect to managing the affairs of the Fund. In addition, Limited Partners will not have an opportunity to evaluate the specific investments made by the Fund or the terms of any investment made by the Fund. Accordingly, no person should purchase Units unless such person is willing to entrust all aspects of the management of the Fund to the General Partner.

Fees and Expenses Borne by the Fund. The Fund will pay, or reimburse the General Partner and/or any of its respective affiliates for, fees, costs, expenses, charges and other obligations incurred by or on behalf of the Fund.

The amount of Fund expenses may be substantial and will reduce the actual returns realized by Limited Partners on their investments in the Fund (and will reduce the amount of capital available to be invested). Fund expenses include recurring and regular items, as well as extraordinary expenses for which it may be hard to budget or forecast. As a result, the amount of Fund expenses ultimately called, or called at any one time, may exceed amounts expected or budgeted by the General Partner and/or the Limited Partners. There is no contractual limit on expenses, and the amount of Fund expenses (including, without limitation, expenses incurred outside the ordinary course such as litigation and similar expenses) that will be borne by Limited Partners may be very high, which could materially reduce the return on a Limited Partner's investment in the Fund.

Limited Partner Due Diligence Information. The General Partner will make available to each prospective investor the opportunity to ask questions of, and receive responses from, one or more representatives of the General Partner concerning the terms and conditions of the offering of Units and to obtain certain additional information. Due to the fact that different potential investors may ask different questions and request different information, the General Partner may provide certain information to one or more prospective investors than it provides to all of the prospective investors. None of the responses or additional information provided is or will be integrated into the subscription documents, and no prospective investor may rely on any such responses or information in making its decision to subscribe for Units.

Side Letters. The General Partner and/or the Fund may enter into one or more side letters or similar agreements with certain Limited Partners pursuant to which the General Partner grants to such Limited Partners specific rights, benefits or privileges that are not made available to Limited Partners generally, including, without limitation, (i) excuse, exclusion or withdrawal rights applicable to a Limited Partner or particular Portfolio Investments (which may increase the percentage interest of other Limited Partners in, and contribution obligations of other Limited Partners with respect to, certain investments), (ii) the right to receive reports on a more frequent basis or to receive reports that include information not provided to other Limited Partners, (iii) waiver of certain confidentiality obligations, (iv) the consent of the General Partner to certain transfers by a Limited Partner, (v) rights or terms necessary in light of particular legal, regulatory or public policy characteristics of a Limited Partner and/or (vi) rights to make co-investments with the Fund. Any such terms may be more favorable than those offered to any other Limited Partner. Except as otherwise agreed with a Limited Partner, such side letters will not be required to be disclosed to other Limited Partners.

Valuation Risks. The General Partner will value the Portfolio Investments at estimated fair value as determined in accordance with its valuation policies and procedures in effect from time to time. There is no guarantee that the value ascribed to any investment will represent the value to be realized by the Fund on the eventual disposition by the Fund of such investment or that could be realized upon an immediate disposition of such investment. The process of valuing securities for which reliable market quotations are not available, if and when applicable to the Fund, is based on inherent uncertainties and the resulting values may differ from values that would have been determined had an active market existed for such securities and may differ from the prices at which such securities may ultimately be sold. With respect to the Fund, the exercise of discretion in valuation by the General Partner may give rise to conflicts of interest, as the carried interest distributions are calculated based, in part, on these valuations and such valuations affect performance return calculations. The General Partner may or may not value the investments differently from how the general partners of other private funds value the same or similar investments.

Cybersecurity Breaches and Identity Theft. The Fund's technology systems may be vulnerable to damage or interruption from computer viruses, network failures, computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons and security breaches, usage errors by its professionals, power outages and catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes, and earthquakes. Although the General Partner has implemented various measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, if these systems are compromised, become inoperable for extended periods of time, or cease to function properly, the General Partner may have to make a significant investment to fix or replace them. The failure of these systems and/or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in the Fund's operations and result in significant losses, expenses, and/or a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality, or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information relating to investors (and the beneficial owners of investors). Such a failure could harm the General Partner's, the Fund's, and/or any applicable Portfolio Investment's reputation, subject any such entity and its respective affiliates to legal claims, and otherwise affect its business and financial performance. Similar risks apply to the technology systems of the Fund's Portfolio Investments.

Electronic Communication. The General Partner may provide statements, reports and other communications relating to the Fund in electronic form to Limited Partners, such as email or via a password-protected website or investor portal ("Electronic Communications"). Electronic Communications may be modified, corrupted, or contain viruses or malicious code and may not be compatible with a Limited Partner's electronic system. In addition, reliance on Electronic Communications involves the risk of inaccessibility, power outages or slowdowns for a variety of reasons. These periods of inaccessibility may delay or prevent receipt of reports, communications or other information by the Limited Partners.

Handling of Mail. Mail addressed to the Fund and received at its registered office will be forwarded unopened to the forwarding address supplied by the General Partner to be dealt with. None of the Fund, the General Partner or any of its or their employees, partners, directors, officers, advisors or service providers (including the organization which provides registered agent services) will bear any responsibility for any delay howsoever caused in mail reaching the forwarding address.

Expedited Transactions. Investment analyses and decisions by the General Partner may be undertaken on an expedited basis in order for the Fund to take advantage of available investment opportunities. In such cases, the information available to the General Partner at the time of the investment decision may be limited, and the General Partner may not have access to the detailed information necessary for a thorough evaluation of the investment opportunity. Further, the General Partner may conduct their due diligence activities over a very brief period. Therefore, no assurance can be given that the General Partner will have knowledge of all circumstances that may adversely affect an investment. In addition, the General Partner expects to rely upon the investment decisions made by the PSC Funds and other sources in connection with its evaluation of proposed investments, and no assurance can be given as to the accuracy or completeness of the information provided by such independent consultants or other sources, or as to the Fund's right of recourse against them in the event errors or omissions do occur.

Confidential Information. The Partnership Agreement will contain confidentiality provisions intended to protect confidential, proprietary and other information relating to the Fund and its Portfolio Investments. To the extent that such information is publicly disclosed, competitors of the Fund and/or its Portfolio Investments may benefit from such information, thereby adversely affecting the Fund, its Portfolio Investments, the General Partner and the economic interests of the Limited Partners. The Limited Partners may include entities that are subject to state public records or similar laws that may compel public disclosure of confidential information regarding the Fund, its investments and its investors. There can be no assurance that such information will not be disclosed either publicly or to regulators or otherwise. To the extent that the General Partner determines that, as a result of such public records or similar laws, a Limited Partner or any of its affiliates or agents may be required to disclose information relating to the Fund, its affiliates and/or any Portfolio Investment (other than information that the General Partner has previously consented in writing that the Limited Partner may disclose), the General Partner may, in order to prevent any such potential disclosure, withhold all or any part of the information otherwise to be provided to such Limited Partner.

Foreign Currency and Exchange Rate Risks. Certain of the PSC Funds', and as such Fund's, investments and the income received by the Fund with respect to certain investments may be denominated in non-U.S. currencies. However, the Fund's books will be maintained, and the contributions and distributions from the Fund generally will be made, in U.S. dollars. Accordingly, changes in currency exchange rates may adversely affect the dollar value of investments, interest and dividends received by the Fund, gains and losses realized on the sale of investments and the amount of distributions, if any, to be made by the Fund. In addition, the Fund may incur costs in converting investment proceeds from one currency to another. Among the factors that may affect currency values are trade balances, the level of short-term interest rates, differences in relative values of similar assets in different currencies, long-term opportunities for investment and capital appreciation and political developments. Although the General Partner may enter into hedging transactions designed to reduce such currency risks, there can be no assurance that the General Partner will be able to do so successfully or cost-effectively, and the General Partner may decide not to hedge against such risks.

Bankruptcy. The PSC Funds may make investments in Portfolio Investments that are in or subsequently enter into the bankruptcy process. There are a number of significant risks inherent in the bankruptcy process, including, for example, the deleterious effects of litigation between the creditors and debtor, the duration of the bankruptcy proceeding and the tangible and other intangible costs to the debtor issuer, including the potential adverse effects on personnel and business relationships and operations. There can be no assurance that these factors can be successfully overcome. First, many events in a bankruptcy are the product of contested matters and adversary proceedings and are beyond the control of the creditors. While creditors are generally given an opportunity to object to significant actions, there can be no assurance that a bankruptcy court in the exercise of its broad powers would not approve actions that would be contrary to the interests of the Fund. Second, the effect of a bankruptcy filing on a Portfolio Investment may adversely and permanently affect such Portfolio Investment. The Portfolio Investment may lose its market position and key employees and otherwise become incapable of restructuring itself as a viable entity. If for this, or any other reason, the bankruptcy proceeding is converted to a liquidation, the liquidation value of the Portfolio Investment may not be equal to the liquidation value that was believed to exist at the time of the investment. Third, the duration of a bankruptcy proceeding is difficult to predict. A creditor's return on the investment can be adversely affected by delays while the plan of reorganization is being negotiated, approved by the creditors and confirmed by the bankruptcy court and until it ultimately becomes effective. Fourth, the administrative costs in connection with a bankruptcy proceeding are frequently high and will paid out of the debtor's estate prior to any return to creditors. For example, if a proceeding involves protracted or difficult litigation, or turns into a liquidation, substantial assets may be devoted to administrative costs. Fifth, bankruptcy law permits the classification together of "substantially similar" claims in determining the classification of claims in a reorganization. Because the standard for classification is vague, there exists the risk that the Fund's influence with respect to the class of securities it owns can be lost by increases in the number and amount of claims in that class or by different classification and treatment. Sixth, in the early stages of the bankruptcy process, it is often difficult to estimate the extent of, or even to identify, any contingent claims that might be made. Seventh, especially in the case of investments made prior to the commencement of bankruptcy proceedings, creditors can lose their ranking and priority if they exercise "domination and control" over a debtor and other creditors can demonstrate that they have been harmed by such actions. This factor may be material as the Fund a control position with respect to its Portfolio Investments. Eighth, certain claims that have priority by law (for example, claims for taxes) may be quite significant.

Risk of Absence of Exit Opportunity. Investments are subject to the risk that the PSC Funds, and thus the Fund, will be unable to dispose of such investments by sale or other disposition at attractive prices or otherwise be unable to complete a realization or an "exit" strategy.

Force Majeure. Portfolio Investments may be vulnerable to a force majeure event, including acts of G-d, war and strike, which could result in the destruction, impairment or loss of profitability for the Portfolio Investments. In addition, the damage caused by the force majeure event may adversely affect a party's ability to perform its obligations until it is able to remedy the damage. Insurance coverage of these risks may be limited, subject to large deductibles or completely unavailable, and the General Partner will determine in its discretion whether to seek insurance coverage of, or seek alternative ways to manage or mitigate, these risks.

Coronavirus and Public Health Emergency. As of the date of initial Closing, there is an ongoing highly contagious form of coronavirus ("COVID-19"), which the World Health Organization declared a global pandemic on March 11, 2020. The outbreak of COVID-19 has caused a worldwide public health emergency with a substantial number of hospitalizations and deaths, and has significantly adversely impacted global commercial activity and contributed to both volatility and material declines in equity and debt markets. The global impact of COVID-19 is evolving, and many national, state and local governments have reacted by instituting mandatory or voluntary quarantines, shutdowns, travel prohibitions and restrictions, closures or reductions of offices, businesses, schools, retail stores, restaurants and other public venues and/or cancellations, suspensions and/or postponements of certain events and activities, including certain non-essential government and regulatory activities. Businesses are also implementing their own precautionary measures, such as voluntary closures, temporary or permanent reductions in work force, remote working arrangements and emergency contingency plans. Such measures, as well as the general uncertainty surrounding the dangers, duration and impact of COVID-19, are creating significant disruption to supply chains and economic activity, impacting consumer confidence and contributing to significant market losses, including by having particularly adverse impacts on transportation, hospitality, tourism, sports, entertainment and other industries dependent upon physical presence. Technological infrastructure has, and will likely continue to be, strained for so long as mandatory or voluntary quarantines are instituted, which will change, and potentially disrupt, the operations of the Partnership and its Portfolio Investments. As COVID-19 continues to spread, potential additional adverse impacts, including a global, regional or other economic recession of indeterminate duration, are increasingly likely and difficult to assess and, as the spread of the COVID-19 prolongs, it could adversely affect many economies, global financial markets, the Partnership or its Portfolio Investments even after COVID-19 is contained.

The extent of the impact of COVID-19 on the Partnership and its Portfolio Investments' operational and financial performance will depend on many factors, including the duration and scope of the resulting public health emergency, the extent of any related restrictions implemented, the impact of such public health emergency on overall supply and demand, goods and services, investor liquidity, consumer confidence and levels of economic activity, and the extent of its disruption to important global, regional and local supply chains and economic markets, all of which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted. The effects of the COVID-19 pandemic may materially and adversely impact the value, performance and liquidity of the Partnership or its Portfolio Investments, leverage availability and terms, the PSC Funds ability to source, manage and divest investments and the General Partner's ability to achieve its investment objectives, all of which could result in significant losses to the Partnership and its Limited Partners.

COVID-19 may also adversely impact one or more individual Limited Partner's financial condition.
In addition, COVID-19 and the resulting changes to global businesses and economies likely will adversely impact the business and operations of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Partnership's Portfolio Investments and their respective affiliates. Certain businesses and activities may be temporarily or permanently halted as a result of government or other quarantine or closure measures, voluntary and precautionary restrictions on travel or meetings and other factors, including the potential adverse impact of COVID-19 on the health of key personnel.

Other Catastrophic Risks. In addition to the potential risks associated with COVID-19 as outlined above, the Partnership may be subject to the risk of loss arising from direct or indirect exposure to a number of types of other catastrophic events, including without limitation (i) other public health crises, including any outbreak of SARS, H1N1/09 influenza, Zika avian influenza, other coronaviruses, Ebola or other existing or new epidemic diseases, or the threat or fear thereof; or (ii) other major events or disruptions, such as hurricanes, earthquakes, tornadoes, fires, flooding and other natural disasters; acts of war, military conflicts, social unrest or terrorism, including cyberterrorism; or major or prolonged power outages or network interruptions. Such events could exacerbate political, social and economic risks previously mentioned and result in significant breakdowns, delays and other disruptions on a local, regional and global scale, which may have adverse effects on the operating performance of the Partnership and its portfolio companies. The extent of the impact of any such catastrophe or other emergency on the Partnership and its Portfolio Investments' operational and financial performance will depend on many factors, including the duration and scope of such emergency, the extent of any related travel advisories and restrictions, the impact on overall supply and demand for goods and services, investor liquidity, consumer confidence and levels of economic activity, and the extent of its disruption to important global, regional and local supply chains and economic markets, all of which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted. In particular, to the extent that any such event occurs and has a material effect on global financial markets or specific markets in which the Partnership participates (or has a material effect on any Partnership Portfolio Investments or locations in which such portfolio companies or the General Partner operates or on any of their respective personnel) the risks of loss could be substantial and could have a material adverse effect on the Partnership or the ability of the General Partner to fulfill its investment objectives.

Fraud. The value of investments made by the Fund may be adversely affected by material misrepresentations, omissions, inaccuracies or incompleteness on the part of the management or owners of Portfolio Investments in which the Fund or the PSC Funds invests. Such material misrepresentation, omission, inaccuracy or incompleteness may undermine the General Partner's due diligence efforts with respect to such companies and, if discovered, negatively affect the valuation of the Fund's investments. In the event of a material misrepresentation, omission, inaccuracy or incompleteness by any Portfolio Investment in which the Fund invests, the Fund may suffer a partial or total loss of its investment in such company.

Litigation. The transactional nature of the business of the PSC Funds and the Funds may expose them, the General Partner and related parties generally to the risks of third party litigation. The outcome of such proceedings may materially adversely affect the value of the Fund and any such litigation may continue without resolution for long periods of time. Any litigation may consume substantial amounts of the General Partner's time and attention. Under the Partnership Agreement, the Fund will generally be responsible for indemnifying the General Partner and related parties for costs they may incur with respect to any such litigation.

Tax Matters. An investment in the Fund may involve complex tax considerations that will differ for each Limited Partner. Many factors will impact the tax consequences to a Limited Partner of an investment in the Fund (including any tax filing obligations arising from an investment in the Fund) including, without limitation, the tax profile (for example, whether the Limited Partner is tax-exempt or a non-U.S. person) and particular circumstances of the Limited Partner, the structure and jurisdiction of the Fund's investments and whether there are any tax law changes during the life of the Fund. Limited Partners could incur U.S. federal income tax liabilities without receiving sufficient distributions from the Fund to defray such tax liabilities. The General Partner intends to structure the Fund's investments in a manner that is intended to achieve the Fund's investment objectives and, notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, there can be no assurance that the structure of any investment will be tax efficient for any particular Limited Partner or that any particular tax result will be achieved. Each prospective investor is solely responsible for all tax consequences to that investor of an investment in the Fund, and is advised to consult its own tax advisor as to the U.S. federal income tax consequences attributable to acquiring, holding and disposing of an Interest, as well as to applicable state, local, estate, non-U.S. or other tax consequences.

The Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues that depend on legal and other interpretive conclusions. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by a taxing authority, a Limited Partner might be found to have a different tax liability for that year than that reported on its income tax return. In addition, an audit of the Fund may result in an audit of the returns of some or all of the Limited Partners, which examination could result in adjustments to the tax consequences initially reported by the Fund and affect items not related to a Limited Partner's investment in the Fund. If such adjustments result in an increase in a Limited Partner's federal income tax liability for any year, such Limited Partner may also be liable for interest and penalties with respect to the amount of underpayment. The legal and accounting costs incurred in connection with any audit of the Fund's tax return will be borne by the Fund. The cost of any audit of a Limited Partner's tax return will be borne solely by the Limited Partner.

No Assurance of Adequate Tax Distributions. It is possible that taxes owed on taxable income allocated to Limited Partners from the Fund's investments will exceed the amount of cash distributed by the Fund.

Compliance with Anti-Money Laundering and Similar Laws and Regulations. In response to increased regulatory concerns with respect to the sources of funds used in investments and other activities, the Fund may request prospective and existing Limited Partners to provide additional documentation verifying, among other things, such Limited Partner's identity, including the identity of such Limited Partner's owners, stockholders and/or stakeholders, and the source and type of funds used to purchase its Interest. The General Partner may decline to accept a subscription if this information is not provided or on the basis of such information that is provided. Requests for documentation may be made at any time during which a Limited Partner holds an Interest. The General Partner may be required to provide this information, or report the failure to comply with such requests, to governmental authorities, in certain circumstances without notifying the Limited Partner that the information has been provided. The General Partner will take such steps as it determines may be necessary to comply with applicable laws, rules, regulations, orders, directives and special measures that may be required by government regulators or interpretation thereof by the appropriate regulatory authority having jurisdiction, and to which the Fund or General Partner is subject, including, prohibiting a Limited Partner from making additional Capital Contributions, depositing distributions to which a Limited Partner would otherwise be entitled into an escrow account or causing the withdrawal of a Limited Partner from the Fund.

Forward-Looking Statements. Statements contained in the investors' presentation (including those related to current and future market conditions and trends in respect thereof) that are not historical facts are based on current expectations, estimates, projections, opinions and/or beliefs of the Fund. Such statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors, and undue reliance should not be placed thereon. Moreover, certain information contained in the investors' presentation constitutes "forward-looking" statements, which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "may," "can," "will," "would," "seek," "should," "expect," "anticipate," "project," "estimate," "intend," "continue," "target," or "believe" or the negatives thereof or other variations thereof or comparable terminology. Due to various risks and uncertainties, including those set forth herein, actual events or results or the actual performance of the Fund may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated in such forward-looking statements.

Estimated Returns. Any estimates of returns in the investors' presentation are forward-looking statements and are based upon certain assumptions. Other events that were not taken into account may occur and may significantly affect the analysis and outcome. Any assumptions should not be construed as indicative of the actual events that will occur. Actual events are difficult to predict and may depend upon factors that are beyond the Fund's control. Some important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those in any forward-looking statements include, without limitation: changes in interest rates and financial, market, economic or legal conditions. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that any estimated returns can be realized or that actual returns or results will not be materially lower than any returns estimated in the investors' presentation. Any such estimated returns should be viewed as hypothetical and do not represent the actual returns that may be achieved by Limited Partners.

Uncertainty of Financial Projections. Financial and other information concerning the Fund's investments may only be available through certain sources, including the Portfolio Investments themselves. There may be no consistent means, however, of confirming the accuracy of such information. It may also be impractical or undesirable to carry out full time due diligence before an investment is acquired. The Portfolio Investments may have little or no previous credit histories. The inaccuracy of certain assumptions and general economic conditions, which are unpredictable, can have a materially adverse impact on the reliability of such projections. The General Partner will generally seek to determine the appropriate capital structure for each entity in which the Fund invests based upon financial projections for that entity. Projected operating results will normally be based primarily on management judgments. In all cases, projections are only estimates of future results based upon assumptions made at the time the projections are developed. There can be no assurance that the projected results will be obtained, and actual results may vary significantly from the projections. General economic conditions, which are not predictable, can have a material adverse impact on the accuracy of projections.

Definitive Terms and Conditions. Portions of the investors' presentation describe specific terms and conditions expected to be set forth in the Partnership Agreement. The actual terms and conditions set forth in the Partnership Agreement may vary materially from those described in the investors' presentation for a variety of reasons, including negotiations between the General Partner and prospective Limited Partners prior to the Fund's initial closing, as well as formal amendments to the Partnership Agreement following such closing. Moreover, the Partnership Agreement will contain highly detailed terms and conditions, many of which are not described fully (or at all) in the investors' presentation. In all cases, the Partnership Agreement will supersede the investors' presentation. Prospective investors are urged to carefully review the Partnership Agreement, and must also be aware that, pursuant to the rules governing amendments set forth in the Partnership Agreement, certain types of amendments to the Partnership Agreement may be adopted with the consent of less than all Limited Partners.

Potential Conflicts of Interest*. Prospective investors should be aware that there may be occasions when the General Partner and its affiliates will encounter potential conflicts of interest in connection with the Fund's activities. The following discussion enumerates certain potential conflicts of interest that should be carefully evaluated before making an investment in the Fund. There can be no assurance that the General Partner will be able to resolve all conflicts in a manner that is favorable to the Fund or any Limited Partner. By acquiring an Interest, each Limited Partner will be deemed to have (i) carefully reviewed this Attachment A: "Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest," (ii) acknowledged the existence of any such potential conflicts of interest and (iii) waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflicts of interest.

Service Providers. The General Partner and/or the Fund may retain third parties to provide services in relation to such parties' investment activities and operations. In particular, Advisors may be retained to assist on various matters related to the Fund, Portfolio Investments and potential portfolio investments, including sourcing investments, conducting due diligence, providing industry expertise, facilitating transactions and providing executive functions at Portfolio Investments. The General Partner and/or the Fund may also retain accountants, administrators, lenders, bankers, brokers, attorneys, consultants, investment or commercial banking firms and certain other advisors and agents from time to time.

The General Partner may rely on the findings of service providers in making investment and management decisions. While no service provider will have any fiduciary duties to the Fund or the Limited Partners, such parties may be entitled to indemnification under the terms of their service contracts or other arrangements entered into with the Fund or the General Partner, which costs and expenses of such indemnification would be borne by the Fund. In certain circumstances, the General Partner and its employees may have other relationships with service providers which make the General Partner more likely to engage that provider. Fees paid to service providers may be structured in various manners, including but not limited to, as a retainer, as incentive compensation (such as success or performance fees) or based on the particular services provided. These fees may be borne by the Fund. Service providers may also be granted preferential equity interests (including stock options) in one or more Portfolio Investments, which they may not have received if they did not have an ongoing relationship with the General Partner and the Fund.

Certain service providers or their affiliates may also provide goods or services to or have business, personal, financial or other relationships with the General Partner, the Fund, or the Fund's Portfolio Investments. Such service providers may be investors in the Fund or an Other Investment Vehicle, affiliates of the General Partner, affiliates of the General Partner's employees or employees' family members, sources of investment opportunities or co-investors or counterparties therewith. These relationships may influence the General Partner in deciding whether to select or recommend such a service provider to perform services for the Fund or a Portfolio Investment (the cost of which will generally be borne directly or indirectly by the Fund or Portfolio Investment, as applicable). In certain circumstances, service providers or their affiliates may charge different rates or have different arrangements for services provided to the General Partner or its affiliates as compared to services provided to the Fund and its Portfolio Investments, which may result in more favorable rates or arrangements than those payable by the Fund or such Portfolio Investments.

Interpretation of the Partnership Agreement. The Partnership Agreement and related documents are detailed agreements that establish complex arrangements among the Limited Partners, the Fund, the General Partner and other entities and individuals. Questions will arise from time to time under these agreements regarding the parties' rights and obligations in certain situations, some of which will not have been contemplated at the time of the agreements' drafting and execution. In these instances, the operative provisions of the agreements, if any, may permit more than one reasonable interpretation. At times there will not be a provision directly applicable to the situation. While the relevant agreements will be construed in good faith and in a manner consistent with applicable legal obligations, the interpretations adopted will not necessarily be, and need not be, the interpretations that are the most favorable to the Fund or the Limited Partners.

Future Possible Activities. The General Partner and its affiliates anticipate that they will engage in other investment, business or advisory activities in the future that could present potential conflicts of interest with the Fund, its Portfolio Investments and its investment strategy. Prospective investors should be aware that conflicts will not necessarily be resolved in favor of the Fund.

Lack of Separate Representation. The representation of the General Partner and the Fund by Appleby (Cayman) Ltd. ("Appleby"), Gross Law Firm (GKH) ("Gross", and collectively with Appleby, "Counsel") is limited to the specific matters with respect to which Counsel has been retained and consulted by such person(s). There may exist other matters which could have a bearing on the Fund and the Fund's investments, the General Partner and/or its respective affiliates as to which Counsel has been neither retained nor consulted. Counsel does not undertake to monitor their compliance with applicable laws, unless in each case the Counsel has been specifically retained to do so. Counsel does not investigate or verify the accuracy and completeness of information set forth in any presentation concerning the Fund, the General Partner, or any of their respective affiliates and personnel or Portfolio Investments. Furthermore, Counsel is not providing any advice, opinion, representation, warranty or other assurance of any kind as to any matter to any Limited Partner. Counsel will not be engaged to protect the interests of prospective investors or Limited Partners and should never be viewed as representing any prospective investor in the Fund or any Limited Partner. Limited Partners and prospective investors should consult with and rely upon their own counsel concerning investments in the Fund, including, without limitation, tax consequences and other issues relating to any investment in the Fund.

The foregoing list of risk factors and potential conflicts of interest does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks and conflicts involved with an investment in the Fund. Additional conflicts may exist that are not presently known to the General Partner or its respective affiliates or are deemed immaterial. Prospective investors should carefully read this Attachment A and the Partnership Agreement and consult with their independent advisors before deciding whether to invest in the Fund. In addition, as the investment program of the Fund develops and changes over time, an investment in the Fund may be subject to additional and different risks and potential conflicts of interest (including, without limitation, additional or different regulatory, tax, market and/or other similar considerations).

US IGA DEFINITIONS

Account Holder means the person listed or identified as the holder of a Financial Account by the Financial Institution that maintains the account. A person, other than a Financial Institution, holding a Financial Account for the benefit or account of another person as agent, custodian, nominee, signatory, investment advisor, or intermediary, is not treated as holding the account for purposes of this Agreement, and such other person is treated as holding the account. For purposes of the immediately preceding sentence, the term "Financial Institution" does not include a Financial Institution organized or incorporated in a U.S. Territory. In the case of a Cash Value Insurance Contract or an Annuity Contract, the Account Holder is any person entitled to access the Cash Value or change the beneficiary of the contract. If no person can access the Cash Value or change the beneficiary, the Account Holder is any person named as the owner in the contract and any person with a vested entitlement to payment under the terms of the contract. Upon the maturity of a Cash Value Insurance Contract or an Annuity Contract, each person entitled to receive a payment under the contract is treated as an Account Holder.

(f) The NFFE is not yet operating a business and has no prior operating history, but is investing capital into assets with the intent to operate a business other than that of a Financial Institution; provided, that the NFFE shall not qualify for this exception after the date that is 24 months after the date of the initial organization of the NFFE;

Entity other than pursuant to the conduct of the Entity's charitable activities, or as payment of reasonable compensation for services rendered, or as payment representing the fair market value of property which the Entity has purchased; and

v) The applicable laws of the Entity's country of residence or the Entity's formation documents require that, upon the Entity's liquidation or dissolution, all of its assets be distributed to a governmental entity or other non-profit organization, or escheat to the government of the Entity's jurisdiction of residence or any political subdivision thereof.

CRS DEFINITIONS

Account Holder means the person listed or identified as the holder of a Financial Account by the Financial Institution that maintains the account. A person, other than a Financial Institution, holding a Financial Account for the benefit or account of another person as agent, custodian, nominee, signatory, investment advisor, or intermediary, is not treated as holding the account for purposes of the Common Reporting Standard, and such other person is treated as holding the account. In the case of a Cash Value Insurance Contract or an Annuity Contract, the Account Holder is any person entitled to access the Cash Value or change the beneficiary of the contract. If no person can access the Cash Value or change the beneficiary, the Account Holder is any person named as the owner in the contract and any person with a vested entitlement to payment under the terms of the contract. Upon the maturity of a Cash Value Insurance Contract or an Annuity Contract, each person entitled to receive a payment under the contract is treated as an Account Holder.

Active Non-Financial Entity means any NFE that meets any of the following criteria:

d) substantially all of the activities of the NFE consist of holding (in whole or in part) the outstanding stock of, or providing financing and services to, one or more subsidiaries that engage in trades or businesses other than the business of a Financial Institution, except that an Entity does not qualify for this status if the Entity functions (or holds itself out) as an investment fund, such as a private equity fund, venture capital fund, leveraged buyout fund, or any investment vehicle whose purpose is to acquire or fund companies and then hold interests in those companies as capital assets for investment purposes;
e) the NFE is not yet operating a business and has no prior operating history, but is investing capital into assets with the intent to operate a business other than that of a Financial Institution, provided that the NFE does not qualify for this exception after the date that is 24 months after the date of the initial organisation of the NFE;
f) the NFE was not a Financial Institution in the past five years, and is in the process of liquidating its assets or is reorganising with the intent to continue or recommence operations in a business other than that of a Financial Institution;
g) the NFE primarily engages in financing and hedging transactions with, or for, Related Entities that are not Financial Institutions, and does not provide financing or hedging services to any Entity that is not a Related Entity, provided that the group of any such Related Entities is primarily engaged in a business other than that of a Financial Institution; or
h) the NFE meets all of the following requirements:
    i) it is established and operated in its jurisdiction of residence exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, artistic, cultural, athletic, or educational purposes; or it is established and operated in its jurisdiction of residence and it is a professional organisation, business league, chamber of commerce, labour organisation, agricultural or horticultural organisation, civic league or an organisation operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare;

    ii) it is exempt from income tax in its jurisdiction of residence;

    iii) it has no shareholders or members who have a proprietary or beneficial interest in its income or assets;

    v) the applicable laws of the NFE's jurisdiction of residence or the NFE's formation documents require that, upon the NFE's liquidation or dissolution, all of its assets be distributed to a Governmental Entity or other non-profit organisation, or escheat to the government of the NFE's jurisdiction of residence or any political subdivision thereof.

Controlling Person means the natural persons who exercise direct or indirect control over an entity. In the case of a trust, such term means the settlor(s), the trustees(s), the protector(s) (if any), the beneficiary(ies) or class(es) of beneficiaries, and any other natural person(s) exercising ultimate effective control over the trust, and in the case of a legal arrangement other than a trust, such term means persons in equivalent or similar positions. The term 'Controlling Persons' shall be interpreted in a manner consistent with the Financial Action Task Force Recommendations ("FATF").

FATF Recommendations on Controlling Persons:
Identify the beneficial owners of the customer and take reasonable measures to verify the identity of such persons, through the following information. For legal persons[24]:

(a) The identity of the natural persons (if any – as ownership interests can be so diversified that there are no natural persons (whether acting alone or together) exercising control of the legal person or arrangement through ownership) who ultimately have a controlling ownership interest[25] in a legal person; and

(b) to the extent that there is doubt under (a) as to whether the person(s) with the controlling ownership interest are the beneficial owner(s) or where no natural person exerts control through ownership interests, the identity of the natural persons (if any) exercising control of the legal person or arrangement through other means.

(c) Where no natural person is identified under (a) or (b) above, financial institutions should identify and take reasonable measures to verify the identity of the relevant natural person who holds the position of senior managing official.

Financial Institution means a Custodial Institution, a Depository Institution, an Investment Entity, or a Specified Insurance Company, where:

(a) Custodial Institution means any entity that holds, as a substantial portion of its business, financial assets for the account of others. An entity holds financial assets for the account of others as a substantial portion of its business if the entity's gross income attributable to the holding of financial assets and related financial services equals or exceeds 20 percent of the Entity's gross income during the shorter of: (i) the three-year period that ends on 31 December (or the final day of a non-calendar year accounting period) prior to the year in which the determination is being made; or (ii) the period during which the entity has been in existence;

(b) Depository Institution means any entity that accepts deposits in the ordinary course of a banking or similar business;

ii) individual and collective portfolio management; or

iii) otherwise investing, administering, or managing Financial Assets or money on behalf of other persons; or

(B) the gross income of which is primarily attributable to investing, reinvesting, or trading in Financial Assets, if the entity is managed by another entity that is a Depository Institution, a Custodial Institution, a Specified Insurance Company, or an Investment Entity described in limb (A) of this definition.

An entity is treated as primarily conducting as a business one or more of the activities described in limb (A), or an entity's gross income is primarily attributable to investing, reinvesting, or trading in Financial Assets for purposes of limb (B) if the entity's gross income attributable to the relevant activities equals or exceeds 50% of the entity's gross income during the shorter of: (i) the three-year period ending on 31 December of the year preceding the year in which the determination is made; or (ii) the period during which the entity has been in existence. The term "Investment Entity" does not include an entity that is an Active Non-Financial Foreign Entity because it meets any of the criteria in subparagraphs d) through (g) of the definition of Active NFE.

[24] Measures (a) to (b) are not alternative options, but are cascading measures, with each to be used where the previous measure has been applied and has not identified a beneficial owner.

[25] A controlling ownership interest depends on the ownership structure of the company. It may be based on a threshold, e.g. any person owning more than a certain percentage of the company (e.g. 25%).

The preceding paragraph shall be interpreted in a manner consistent with similar language set forth in the definition of "financial institution" in the Financial Action Task Force Recommendations; and

(d) Specified Insurance Company means any entity that is an insurance company (or the holding company of an insurance company) that issues, or is obligated to make payments with respect to, a Cash Value Insurance Contract or an Annuity Contract.

(d) an Exempt Collective Investment Vehicle; or

(e) a trust to the extent that the trustee of the trust is a Reporting Financial Institution and reports all information required to be reported pursuant to Section I with respect to all Reportable Accounts of the trust.
