EMIF II FEEDER I LP

EMIF II FEEDER II LP

EMIF II FEEDER IIA LP

EMIF II FEEDER III LP

THIS SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT is made by and between the General Partner, and the undersigned applicant (the "Purchaser"), that is hereby subscribing for a limited partnership interest in the Partnership (the "Interest") on the terms and conditions set forth herein and in the Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership, substantially in the form previously furnished to the Purchaser (as the same may be modified in accordance with the terms thereof, the "Partnership Agreement"). Capitalized terms used herein without definition have the meanings set forth in the Partnership Agreement.

1. Subscription for an Interest.

The Purchaser hereby subscribes for a limited partnership interest in the Partnership (the "Interest") and agrees to make Capital Contributions in cash to the Partnership in accordance with the Partnership Agreement from time to time in the amounts required with respect to a Capital Commitment in the amount set forth on the signature page to this Subscription Agreement. The Purchaser understands that this subscription is not binding on the Partnership until accepted by the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership, and may be rejected, in whole or in part, by the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership in its absolute discretion. Unless and until rejected by the General Partner, this subscription shall be irrevocable by the Purchaser. The Purchaser further understands that it shall be admitted as a Limited Partner in respect of the Interest on the date of the countersignature by the General Partner of this Subscription Agreement.

2. Feeder Structure.

The Purchaser understands that the Partnership was formed specifically for investment in a Series of the Fund (or if so advised by tax counsel, in additional Series of the Fund and/or in Parallel Funds), and that it does not have an independent investment policy (other than temporary investments of cash). Thus, the results of operations of the Partnership are dependent on the results of operations of the Fund, and therefore, distributions by the Partnership are generally conditional upon distributions made by the Fund to its interest holders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Purchaser understands that Drawdown Notices by the Partnership may be different in time and amount from the drawdown notices given by the Fund to the Partnership and that pending contributions of funds to the Fund, distribution to the Partners, or otherwise in connection with the creation of reserves, as provided in the Partnership Agreement, the Partnership will invest the money raised in temporary liquid investments. The Purchaser further understands that the Fund is obligated to pay its general partner, its manager and their affiliates certain fees and amounts and that the Partnership shall be obligated to bear its share of such fees and expenses, in addition to the Partnership's own expenses.

3. Representations, Warranties and Covenants of the Purchaser.

The Purchaser represents, warrants and covenants to the Partnership and the General Partner as of the date that this Subscription Agreement is signed by the Purchaser, as of the Closing Date, and as of each date on which the Purchaser makes any additional Capital Contributions to the Partnership:

3.1 The information set forth in the Purchaser information form attached hereto, as well as all information provided on IRS Form W-9 or the applicable IRS Form W-8 provided by the Purchaser, the information contained in the applicable CRS Self-Certification Form, the Israeli Accredited Investor Status attachment, the U.S. Person Status attachment, the Tax Status attachment and all information provided in response to the Anti-Money Laundering Supplement, each of which shall be considered an integral part of this Subscription Agreement, is accurate and complete, and the Purchaser will promptly notify the Partnership of any change in such information. The Purchaser shall promptly provide such additional information, documentation or certification as may be requested by the General Partner, including, in connection with tax filings, tax reporting requirements, anti-money laundering laws or regulations, banking applications or loan applications. Such information, documentation or certification may include, without limitation, information regarding the ultimate beneficial owners of the Purchaser. The Purchaser consents to the disclosure of any such information, and any other information furnished to the Partnership, to any governmental authority, self-regulatory organization, bank, financial institution, and current and prospective limited partners in the Partnership and, to the extent required by law or considered by the General Partner to be in the best interests of the Partnership, to any other person. The Purchaser confirms that it shall have no claim with respect to any such disclosure.

3.2 If the Purchaser is a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or other entity, it is duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of organization and all other jurisdictions where it is authorized to conduct business; the execution, delivery and performance by the Purchaser of this Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement are within the Purchaser's corporate or other powers, as applicable, have been duly authorized, and this Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement are the Purchaser’s legal, valid and binding obligations, enforceable against the Purchaser in accordance with their respective terms; and the Purchaser is qualified to become a limited partner in, and authorized to make its Capital Contributions to, the Partnership and otherwise to comply with its obligations under the Partnership Agreement. The person signing this Subscription Agreement on behalf of such entity has been duly authorized by such entity to do so. In addition, such Purchaser will, upon request of the General Partner, deliver any documents, including an opinion of counsel to the Purchaser, evidencing the existence of the Purchaser, the legality of an investment in the Partnership and the authority of the person executing this Subscription Agreement on behalf of the Purchaser.

3.3 If the Purchaser is a natural person, the Purchaser is qualified to become a limited partner in the Partnership and has the legal capacity to execute, deliver and perform this Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement, and the Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement have been duly executed and delivered by the Purchaser. If the Purchaser is accepted as a Limited Partner of the Partnership, this Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement are the Purchaser’s legal, valid and binding obligations, enforceable against the Purchaser in accordance with their respective terms.

3.4 If the Purchaser is acting as nominee, custodian, trustee, agent or representative (a “Nominee”) for another person, entity or organization in connection with the Interest, then the Purchaser (i) understands and acknowledges that the representations, warranties and agreements made herein are made by the Purchaser (a) with respect to the Purchaser and (b) with respect to the beneficial owner; (ii) further represents and warrants that the Purchaser has all requisite power and authority from such beneficial owner to execute and perform the obligations under this Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement; and (iii) has delivered this Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement to such beneficial owner, and the Purchaser shall promptly deliver to such beneficial owner any supplements or amendments to any such documents that are delivered to the Purchaser. The representations and warranties regarding the status of the Purchaser in the Purchaser Questionnaire are true with respect to, and accurately describe, the person, entity or organization for which the undersigned is acting as Nominee.

3.5 The execution and delivery by the Purchaser of, and compliance by the Purchaser with, this Subscription Agreement, the Partnership Agreement and each other document required to be executed and delivered by the Purchaser by this Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement do not violate or represent a breach of or constitute a default under, any instruments governing the Purchaser, any law, regulation or order, or any agreement to which the Purchaser is a party or by which the Purchaser is bound. Furthermore, the Purchaser is not precluded by the laws of the country in which it is resident (or of any other governmental authority) from investing in the Partnership.

3.6 If the Purchaser is not a natural person, unless otherwise disclosed to the General Partner, the Purchaser represents that: (a) it has not been formed, organized, reorganized, capitalized or recapitalized for the purpose of acquiring an Interest; (b) its decision to purchase the Interest was made in a centralized fashion (e.g., by a board of directors, general partner, manager, trustee, investment committee or similar governing or managing body); (c) it is not managed to facilitate the individual decisions of its beneficial owners regarding investments (including the purchase of the Interest); and (d) its shareholders, partners, members or beneficiaries, as applicable, did not and will not (i) have any discretion to determine whether or how much of the Purchaser's assets are invested in any investment made by the Purchaser (including the Purchaser's purchase of the Interest), or (ii) have the ability individually to elect whether or to what extent such shareholder, partner, member or beneficiary, as applicable, will participate in the Purchaser's purchase of the Interest.

3.7 The Purchaser has read the Partnership Agreement, this Subscription Agreement and the Fund Agreement (together, the "Fund Documents") carefully, with particular attention to the Section hereof entitled Risk Factors Supplement, and it fully understands and is aware of the legal and economic risks associated with its investment in the Partnership and with the Partnership's investment in the Fund. The Purchaser has reviewed such documents and the Purchaser understands the risks of, and other considerations relating to, the purchase of an Interest including the effect of the provisions of Section 3.6 of the Partnership Agreement (relating to Partners that default on their obligations to make Capital Contributions), and Article VI of the Partnership Agreement (relating to the return of certain distributions to fund Partnership obligations and liabilities). The Purchaser has not relied on any oral statements or other written materials in its investment decision or for legal, investment or tax advice, and understands that no document, other than the Fund Documents, binds the Partnership, General Partner and their affiliates.

3.8 The Purchaser has been provided an opportunity to ask questions of, and the Purchaser has received answers thereto satisfactory to the Purchaser from, the General Partner and its representatives regarding the terms and conditions of the offering of the Interests, and the Purchaser has obtained any and all additional information requested by the Purchaser of the Partnership and its representatives to verify the accuracy of all information furnished to the Purchaser regarding the offering of the Interests. The Purchaser had the opportunity to seek independent legal, investment and tax advice to the extent that the Purchaser has deemed necessary or appropriate in connection with the Purchaser's decision to subscribe for an Interest

3.9 The Purchaser acknowledges that (a) neither the General Partner, the Special Limited Partner, nor any of their affiliates, nor any of their respective officers, employees or agents (each, a "Manager Party") has acted for the Purchaser or advised the Purchaser in connection with the Purchaser's subscription for the Interest and, accordingly, no Manager Party is responsible for providing the Purchaser with the protections afforded to clients of any Manager Party in connection with the Purchaser's subscription for the Interest; (b) neither the provisions of this Subscription Agreement nor the acceptance of any subscription hereunder shall be deemed in any way to be legal or tax advice or any representation or warranty by the Partnership, the General Partner or any representative or affiliate of any of the foregoing, or to imply in any way, that an investment in the Partnership is suitable for any investor; and (c) the Purchaser has taken such advice from such other persons (if any) as the Purchaser considers appropriate.

3.10 The Purchaser is an Accredited Investor (as indicated in the attached Purchaser Questionnaire) and has such knowledge and experience in financial and business affairs that the Purchaser is capable of evaluating the merits and risks of purchasing, and other considerations relating to, the Interest to be purchased by the Purchaser pursuant to this Subscription Agreement. The Purchaser's financial situation is such that the Purchaser can afford to bear the economic risk of holding such Interest for an indefinite period of time, and the Purchaser can afford to suffer the complete loss of its Capital Commitment. The Purchaser further confirms that all information that the Purchaser has provided concerning the Purchaser, the Purchaser's financial position and knowledge of financial and business matters is true, correct and complete. The Purchaser acknowledges and understands that the General Partner will rely on the information provided by the Purchaser in this Agreement and in the Investor Questionnaire that accompanies this Agreement for purposes of complying with applicable Federal and state securities laws

3.11 The Purchaser maintains his, her or its domicile and/or principal place of business, as the case may be, and is not merely a transient or temporary resident, at the residence address shown on the signature page of this Agreement.

3.12 The Purchaser has not entered into and will not enter into: (a) a swap, structured note or other derivative instrument with a third party, the return from which is based in whole or in part on the return of the Partnership; (b) a variable annuity or insurance policy, the value of which is based in whole or in part on the return of the Partnership; or (c) any other hedging transactions involving the Interest.

3.13 The Purchaser is acquiring the Interest for investment purposes only and is not making its Capital Commitment to the Partnership with a view to or for sale in connection with any distribution of all or any part of such Interest. The Purchaser has no present intention, agreement or arrangement to divide its Interest with others or to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of all or any part of such Interest. The Purchaser will not, directly or indirectly, Transfer all or any part of such Interest (or solicit any offers to buy, purchase or otherwise acquire or take a pledge of all or any part of such Interest) except in accordance with (a) the registration provisions of the applicable securities laws and any other applicable securities law, or an exemption from such registration provisions, (b) the ELP Law, and (c) the terms of the Partnership Agreement. The Purchaser understands that the offering and sale of the Interests have not been registered under applicable securities laws and are not expected to be so registered and, therefore, the Interests cannot be sold unless an exemption from such registration is available with respect to any such sale. The Purchaser also understands that Transfers of the Interests are further restricted by the provisions of the Partnership Agreement and the ELP Law, and may be restricted by other applicable securities laws.

3.14 The Purchaser understands that the tax consequences that are involved in acquiring, holding and disposing of the Interest are not certain. The Purchaser further acknowledges and understands that it is possible that the Partnership will recognize income, and that as a result, the Partner may be liable to pay taxes, without corresponding cash distributions by the Partnership. The Purchaser fully understands that in such case, it may have to pay the tax obligation so incurred notwithstanding the fact that the Partnership did not distribute an amount sufficient to cover such tax liability. Furthermore, in the case of a Purchaser investing through Feeder I, such Purchaser understands that Feeder I as well as the Fund are flow through entities for federal and certain states income tax purposes. As such, the income allocated to such Purchaser from the Fund and Feeder I will be reportable and taxable in the US and the Purchaser will be obligated to report in the United States, Israel and certain states its income, gains, losses and deductions on an annual basis and pay tax on any income and gains. In the case of a Purchaser that is investing through Feeder II or Feeder IIA, such Purchaser understands that Feeder II and Feeder IIA will set up entities that are treated as corporate entities for tax purposes for Israeli, federal and certain state income tax purposes. As a result, the Purchaser will not be liable to tax or reporting in respect of the income of such entities. However, there is a risk, that interest paid by such entities to Feeder II or Feeder IIA, as the case may be, may be characterized as dividends subject to full withholding tax of 30% in the US or to ordinary income tax rates in Israel. Furthermore, in the case of a Purchaser investing through Feeder III, such Purchaser understands that Feeder III will hold an interest in such entity that will be organized in order to qualify as and elect to be a real estate investment trust ("REIT"). The tax consequences of holding an interest in a REIT are not entirely clear mainly because of the fact that the tax implications related to such REIT holding structure are the subject matter of new legislation that is not entirely clear. A Purchaser investing through Feeder III will be required to execute a supplemental tax disclosure acknowledgement that will be provided to such Purchaser prior to its acceptance as a Limited Partner thereof.

The Purchaser is advised to consult with tax advisors in respect of the Israeli and foreign tax consequences emanating from purchasing, holding, and disposing of the Interest.

3.15 The Purchaser acknowledges that the Partnership and the Fund will seek to comply with: (i) the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act provisions of the United States Internal Revenue Code, (ii) the OECD's Common Reporting Standard, and (iii) any rules, regulations, forms, instructions, agreements with the United States Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS"), Intergovernmental agreements (each, an "IGA") or any other any laws or regulations of the Cayman Islands implementing the foregoing or any similar agreement between the Cayman Islands and any other jurisdiction (the "FATCA Provisions"). In furtherance of these efforts, the Purchaser agrees to promptly deliver any additional documentation or information, and updates thereto as applicable, which the Partnership may request in order to comply with the FATCA Provisions, including, but not limited to (i) information the General Partner deems necessary to determine whether the Purchaser is a "foreign financial institution" as defined in Code §1471(d)(4) and Treasury Regulations thereunder, or a "non-financial foreign entity" as defined in Code § 1472(d) and Treasury Regulations thereunder, (ii) if the Purchaser is a foreign financial institution, any certification, statement or other information the General Partner deems necessary to determine whether the Purchaser meets the requirements of Code §1471(b) (including entering into an agreement with the IRS pursuant to Code §1471(b) and complying with the terms thereof) or is otherwise exempt from withholding required under the FATCA Provisions or an applicable IGA,(iii) if Purchaser is a non-financial foreign entity, any certification, statement or other information the General Partner deems necessary to determine whether the Purchaser meets the requirements of Code §1472(b), which information may be given to the IRS, or is otherwise exempt from withholding required under the FATCA

Provisions, and (iv) any documents, tax certifications, financial and other information as the General Partner may request on its own behalf or on behalf of any of its Affiliates, the Fund or any member of any "expanded affiliate group" (as defined in Section 1471(e)(2) of the Code) to which the Partnership or the Fund belongs, in connection with the Partnership's or any such other person's compliance with the FATCA Provisions or any legal and tax information reporting and exchange obligations applicable to it under the laws of the Cayman Islands or any other applicable jurisdiction. Furthermore, in addition to any other information required to be provided pursuant to this Section 2(X), the Purchaser covenants and agrees to promptly provide, at any times requested by the General Partner, any information or verification the General Partner deems necessary for any non-U.S. person to enter into an agreement described in Code §1471(b), and any information required to comply with the terms of that agreement. The Purchaser acknowledges and agrees that, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Partnership Agreement, any side letter or any other agreement, the failure to promptly comply with such requests, or to provide such additional information, may result in the withholding of amounts with respect to, or other limitations on, distributions made to the Purchaser and such other reasonably necessary or advisable action as the Partnership or the General Partner may consider necessary or appropriate with respect to the Interests (including, without limitation, the required withdrawal of the Purchaser), and the Purchaser shall have no claim, and shall not pursue any claim, against the Partnership, the General Partner or any other Person in connection therewith. The Purchaser understands that the General Partner may release, report or otherwise disclose to the Tax Information Authority in the Cayman Islands (or any other authority as may be required under laws of the Cayman Islands or any other applicable jurisdiction any of the information contained herein provided to them by a Limited Partner and any other information it holds in respect of the Limited Partner's investment in the Partnership, in connection with the obligations detailed herein, including, without limitation, in relation to the identity, address, tax identification number, tax status and Interest of the Limited Partner (and any of its direct or indirect owners or affiliates).

3.16 For purposes of this Section 3.15, "United States person" means (i) an individual who is a United States citizen or resident for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (ii) a partnership, corporation or limited liability company organized under United States law, (iii) a United States estate (or any other estate all of the income of which is subject to United States federal income tax regardless of the source) or (iv) a trust if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the trust's administration and one or more United States persons have the authority to control all of its substantial decisions or if a valid election to be treated as a United States person is in effect with respect to such trust.

(a) United States Persons: Each Purchaser that is a United States person as defined in this Section 3.15 must complete a Form W-9. These forms are necessary for the Partnership and the Fund to comply with its tax filing obligations and to establish that the Purchaser is not subject to certain withholding tax obligations applicable to non-United States persons. The completed forms should be returned with the Purchaser's Subscription Agreement. Do not send these forms to the IRS.

(b) Non- United States Persons: Purchasers and beneficial owners thereof that are not "United States persons" as defined in this Section 3.15 are required to provide information about their status for withholding tax and the FATCA Provisions on an applicable form W-8 including a Form W-8BEN (Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Individuals)), Form W-8BEN-E (Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Entities)) (for non-United States Beneficial Owners), Form W-8IMY (Certificate of Foreign Intermediary, foreign

If applicable, a Purchaser or Beneficial Owner that is not a "United States person" must also provide a United States taxpayer identification number or Global Intermediary Identification Number ("GIIN") on the applicable Form W-8. Purchasers may access the IRS website (www.irs.gov) to obtain the appropriate form W-8 and its instructions. The completed forms should be returned with the Purchaser's Subscription Agreement. Do not send them to the IRS.

Non-United States persons may also be asked to provide certain information with respect to themselves and, if applicable, their beneficial owners, under the FATCA Provisions in order for the Partnership and the Fund to be in compliance with FATCA Provisions and to avoid withholding under the FATCA Provisions of the Code.

3.17 The Purchaser acknowledges that the General Partner and the Partnership seek to comply at all times with applicable anti-money laundering laws and regulations of any applicable jurisdictions, including laws and regulations relating to organized crime, terror financing and related activities (collectively, "AML Laws"), including, without limitation the Proceeds of Crime Law (as revised) of the Cayman Islands, the Terrorism Law (as revised) of the Cayman Islands, the Anti-Money Laundering Regulations, 2017 (as amended) and the Guidance Notes On The Prevention And Detection Of Money Laundering And Terrorist Financing In The Cayman Islands (as amended) or the Misuse of Drugs Law (as revised) of the Cayman Islands and that it is the General Partner's and the Partnership's policy to cooperate fully with law enforcement agencies. In connection with the matters addressed in the Anti-Money Laundering Supplement, the Purchaser agrees to provide the General Partner and the Partnership with customer identification information with respect to the Purchaser, as well as to obtain and maintain all other customer identification, including customer identification information for all of its underlying beneficial owners, Related Persons, and related persons of underlying beneficial owners as applicable in a manner set forth in the Anti-Money Laundering Supplement.

3.18 The Purchaser acknowledges that, pursuant to the AML Laws, the Partnership, the General Partner or any administrator acting on behalf of the Partnership may be required to collect further documentation verifying the Purchaser's identity and the source of funds used to purchase an Interest before, and from time to time after, acceptance by the General Partner of this Subscription Agreement and the Purchaser agrees to provide the General Partner at any time during the term of the Partnership with such information as the General Partner determines to be necessary or appropriate to comply with the AML Laws, or to respond to requests for information concerning the identity of Limited Partners from any governmental authority, self-regulatory organization or financial institution in connection with its anti-money laundering compliance procedures, or to update such information.

3.19 Neither the Purchaser nor any Person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by or under common control with the Purchaser is a Person identified as a terrorist organization on any relevant lists maintained by governmental authorities, or is subject to sanctions imposed under the laws, regulations or executive orders administered and enforced by the U.S. Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC"), pursuant to 31 C.F.R. Sub. B, Chap. V.

3.20 The Purchaser represents that none of the funds contributed by the Purchaser to the Partnership are or will be, directly or indirectly, derived from or related to any activity that is deemed criminal or unlawful under federal, state or foreign laws, rules or regulations, including the AML Laws and that its investment in the Partnership is not intended to further or advance any criminal or unlawful activities, or otherwise hide, disguise or conceal the source, nature or ownership of the proceeds used for the investment. The Purchaser further represents that it has complied and shall comply with (and shall assist the General Partner in complying with) all applicable reporting requirements and tax obligations.

3.21 The Purchaser acknowledges and agrees that, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Partnership Agreement, any side letter or any other agreement, to the extent required by any AML Laws, the General Partner may prohibit additional Capital Contributions by the Purchaser or take any other reasonably necessary or advisable actions with respect to the Interests, and the Purchaser shall have no claim, and shall not pursue any claim, against the General Partner or any other Person in connection therewith. The Purchaser further understands and agrees that if at any time it is discovered that any of the foregoing representations is incorrect, or if otherwise required by any applicable law, the General Partner may undertake appropriate actions to ensure compliance with applicable law or regulation.

3.22 The Purchaser agrees to hold harmless each Electra Person (as defined below) with respect to, and reimburse each Electra Person for, any liability, loss, claim, cost, damage or expense (i) arising as a result of a failure to process any subscription or the refusal to make a distribution or other payment pursuant to the terms of Section 3.17 above, or (ii) which any Electra Person may suffer as a result of any violations of law, rule or regulation committed by the Purchaser. For purposes of this Subscription Agreement, "Electra Persons" shall mean the General Partner, the Special Limited Partner, the Partnership and their respective affiliates, as well as the respective partners, members, directors, managers, officers, employees, agents, successors, heirs and assigns of any of the foregoing.

3.23 The Purchaser acknowledges that it is not subscribing pursuant hereto for an Interest as a result of, subsequent to or pursuant to (a) any advertisement, article, notice or other communications published in any newspaper, magazine or similar media or form of general advertising or general solicitation (including any internet site whose information about the Partnership is not password protected) or broadcast over television or radio, or (b) any seminar or public promotional meeting whose attendees, including the Purchaser, had been invited as a result of, subsequent to or pursuant to any of the foregoing.

3.24 In the event that multiple persons are subscribing for an interest in the Partnership hereunder, each such person hereby acknowledges that he, she or it (a) shall be jointly and severally liable for all of the obligations and liabilities associated with such Interest, and (b) is required to independently meet all of the regulatory and legal requirements applicable to an investor in the Partnership.

3.25 The Purchaser understands that Raveh Haber & Co. Advocates (as to matters of Israeli Law) and Carey Olsen (as to matters of Cayman Islands law) have been engaged by the General Partner to represent it and the Partnership and the Fund in connection with the organization of the Partnership and the Fund and the offering of Interests in the Partnership. The Purchaser also understands that no separate counsel has been engaged to independently represent the Limited Partners, including the Purchaser, and the Purchaser should consult his, her or its own legal and tax advisers in connection with such matters.

3.26 The representations, warranties, agreements, undertakings and acknowledgments made by the Purchaser in this Subscription Agreement and the Partnership Agreement, including without limitation, the U.S Person status representation on page 40, will be relied upon by the Partnership and the General Partner in determining the Purchaser's suitability as a purchaser of an Interest and the Partnership's compliance with applicable securities laws, and shall survive the Purchaser's admission to the Partnership as a Limited Partner. If no person can access the Cash Value or change the beneficiary, the Account Holder is any person named as the owner in the contract and any person with a vested entitlement to payment under the terms of the contract. Upon the maturity of a Cash Value Insurance Contract or an Annuity Contract, each person entitled to receive a payment under the contract is treated as an Account Holder.

(f) The NFFE is not yet operating a business and has no prior operating history, but is investing capital into assets with the intent to operate a business other than that of a Financial Institution; provided, that the NFFE shall not qualify for this exception after the date that is 24 months after the date of the initial organization of the NFFE;

The risk factors set forth below are not meant to be an exhaustive list of all potential risks associated with an investment in the Partnership and in the Fund, indirectly. Prospective investors should consult their own legal, tax and financial advisors as to all of these risks and, generally, with respect to an investment in the Partnership. Capitalized terms used and not defined herein shall have the meanings set forth in the Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership (the "Partnership Agreement").

General Risks relating to an Investment in the Partnership and the Fund

Structure. The Partnership was formed specifically for investment in the Fund and the Partnership does not have an independent investment policy. Thus, the results of the Partnership are dependent on the results of the Fund. The Partnership is obligated to bear a portion of the Fund's expenses, including management fees. In addition, the Partnership will incur its own expenses. Distributions will be made by the Fund to its partners in accordance with the Fund Partnership Agreement, pursuant to which the general partner of the Fund, shall be entitled to disproportionate distributions of the profits earned by the Fund once the limited partners thereof (including the Partnership) have achieved certain returns and recovered their capital contributions to the Fund. Amounts so distributable to the General Partner will reduce the amounts available to the Limited Partners of the Partnership.

Passive Investment; Unspecified Use of Proceeds. An investment in the Partnership is passive in nature. The Limited Partners will not have the ability to influence the Fund's performance or decisions made by the general partner of the Fund. For example, the majority of the Fund's investments have not yet been identified and Limited Partners will be dependent upon the judgment and ability of the General Partner to invest and manage the Fund's capital.

Lack of Liquidity. An investment in the Partnership is subject to severe constraints on transferability and liquidity. A Limited Partner will not be entitled to transfer its Interest in the Partnership without the consent of the General Partner, which generally may be withheld in its sole and absolute discretion. Furthermore, there is no market for Interests in the Partnership and none is expected to develop. An investment in the Partnership is suitable only for a sophisticated, experienced investor who is financially able to maintain its investment for a substantial period of time and who can afford a loss of its investment.

Dependence on Key Personnel. The success of the Partnership and the Fund depends in large part on the abilities of the Principals and their continued association with the Partnership and the Fund. There is no assurance that the Principals will remain associated with the Partnership and the Fund throughout their term or that they will succeed in achieving the Fund's investment objectives. Although the Principals and other key employees of the General Partner have had extensive experience in real estate transactions, both the Partnership and the Fund are newly formed entities with no operating history. Furthermore, past performance of prior EMIF funds and co-investment vehicles is not necessarily indicative of future results and provides no assurance of any future results of either the Partnership or the Fund.

Past Results Not Indicative of Future Results. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve similar results to the results of the Prior Fund or to any of the results obtained by the Principals' prior investments, whether on an aggregated portfolio basis or an individual investment by investment basis. Although the Principals may have achieved or expect to achieve favorable returns with some of their previous investments, performance of past investments and of the Prior Fund (whether or not of the type and scope of the Fund) cannot be relied upon to predict the Fund's success. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective. The Fund's lack of operating history and knowledge regarding the profitability of its identified investments increase the risk and uncertainty a potential investor faces in making an investment in the Partnership and the Fund. Potential investors cannot be assured that historic performance of the Principals will be repeated with the Fund.

Lack of Separate Legal Counsel. Raveh Haber & Co, Advocates (and any other counsel retained by the General Partner, the Partnership or the Fund) serve as legal counsel to the Partnership and certain of its affiliates and not to any investor that becomes a Limited Partner of the Partnership, even though legal fees paid to such firm shall be borne by the Partnership and, indirectly, by the Partnership's Limited Partners. The General Partner urges each prospective investor to consult with his, her or its own legal, accounting, business, investment, pension and tax advisors in order to determine the appropriateness and consequences of an investment in the Partnership and arrive at an independent evaluation of the merits of such investment.

Risks Relating to the Nature of the Partnership's Investments

General Risks. Real property investments, like all investments, are subject to varying degrees of risk. The yields available from Properties depend on the amount of revenue generated and expenses incurred. If certain Properties do not generate sufficient revenues to meet their acquisition and operating expenses, the Fund's cash flow and ability to pay distributions to its investors, the Partnership among them, will be adversely affected. The revenues generated by, and the value of, a particular Property may be adversely affected by a number of factors, including: the cyclical nature of the real estate market; national, regional and local economic climates; local real estate market conditions; fluctuations in operating costs; changes in interest rates; and the availability, cost and terms of financing. Real estate values are also affected by such factors as government regulations (including those governing usage, improvements, zoning and taxes), interest rate levels, the availability of financing and potential liability under changing environmental and other laws. Changes in interest rates could have a negative impact on the performance and/or valuation of the Fund's investments and the Properties.

Risk Associated with Property Acquisitions. The Fund's acquisition of interests in real property involves many risks including acquiring interests in properties that are subject to liabilities or that have problems relating to environmental condition, state of title, physical condition or compliance with zoning laws, building codes or other legal requirements. In each case, the Fund's acquisition of interests in a Property may be without any recourse, or with only limited recourse, with respect to unknown liabilities or conditions. As a result, if any liability were asserted against the Fund relating to such Properties, or if any adverse condition existed with respect to the Properties, the Fund might have to pay substantial sums to settle or cure it, which could adversely affect the cash flow and operating results of the Fund.

Current Market Conditions. The Fund's activities may extend over a period of years, during which the business, economic, political and regulatory environments within which the Fund operates may undergo substantial changes. Recent events demonstrate that such changes may be severe and adverse. The duration of adverse economic and market conditions, and their impact on the Fund's performance, is unknown. Limited Partners will have no input on the Fund's Investments, it's investment pace, or strategy and will have no right to withdraw from the Partnership.

Investment Strategy. The Fund's current strategy is to make investments in multifamily properties in the southeastern and south central United States and enhancing the value of those properties. Accordingly, the general partner of the Fund will be required to maintain expertise, relationships and market knowledge across a broad range of geographic regions, and will be subject to the market conditions affecting each asset in various markets, including such factors as the local economic climate, business layoffs, industry slowdowns, changing demographics, and local supply and demand issues affecting each such market. The general partner of the Fund may not be able to develop and maintain the level of expertise, relationships and market knowledge required for the Fund to succeed with this strategy in a variety of geographic locations.

Possible Lack of Diversification. While diversification is an objective of the Fund, there is no assurance as to the degree of diversification that will actually be achieved in the Fund's investments. This could lead to increased risk as a result of the Fund having an unintended long-term investment and reduced diversification. After the Fund has had its Initial Closing, there is no assurance that the Fund will have a Subsequent Closing. If the Fund raises less capital than anticipated, the Fund will likely be less diversified than the general partner of the Fund intends, which would increase the risk of an investment in the Partnership and the Fund.

Risks of Environmental Liabilities. Under various laws, ordinances and regulations, an owner or operator of real property may become liable for the costs of removal or remediation of certain hazardous substances released on, about, under or in its property. Environmental laws often impose this liability without regard to whether the owner or operator knew of, or was responsible for, the release of hazardous substances. The presence of hazardous substances, or the failure to remediate hazardous substances properly, may adversely affect the Fund's ability to sell, use or finance real estate. In addition to clean-up actions brought by governmental agencies and private parties, the presence of hazardous substances on a property may lead to claims of personal injury, property damage or other claims by private plaintiffs.

Risks Involved in Acquisitions through Ventures with Third Parties. The Fund may invest in properties as a partner or a co-venturer with various third parties. Such investments may, under certain circumstances, involve risks not otherwise present, including the possibility that a third party might become bankrupt, and thus, the Fund may be required to make capital contributions in the underlying investment for cost overruns and other unforeseen expenses, and that a third party partner might at any time have economic or other business interests or goals which are inconsistent with the business interests or goals of the Fund.

Control over Investments. The general partner of the Fund may have limited rights with respect to the Properties in which the Fund invests with third parties. The Fund's ability to protect its position and make decisions with respect to its investments may be limited by the rights of such third parties. For example, if the Fund invests in properties as a partner or a co-venturer with a third party partner, the general partner of the Fund expects such third party partner to have approval or consultation rights over certain major decisions recommended by the Fund, and such partner may be in a position to take action contrary to the instructions or requests of the general partner of the Fund or contrary to the Fund's policies or objectives. The general partner of the Fund will, however, seek to maintain sufficient control of such ventures to permit the Fund's objectives to be achieved.

Lease Terminations or Tenant Defaults. The success of the Fund's Investments will materially depend on the financial stability of the tenants of its Investments. A default by a significant number of tenants on their lease payments would cause the Fund to lose the revenue associated with such leases and require the Fund to find an alternative source of revenue to meet mortgage payments and to prevent a foreclosure if the property is subject to a mortgage. The general partner of the Fund may fail to, or may not be able to, discover factors that would indicate a heightened level of uncertainty with respect to tenant defaults when performing due diligence on prospective investments. Tenant defaults thus increase the risk that the Fund, and hence and the Partnership and the Limited Partners, could suffer a loss.

Leverage. The Fund will utilize a leveraged capital structure, in which case a third party would be entitled to cash flow generated by Properties prior to the Fund or the Partnership, as applicable, receiving a return. Although the use of leverage may enhance returns and increase the number of Properties that can be invested in, it may also substantially increase the risk of loss of principal. Rising interest rates, downturns in the economy and other factors may adversely affect the ability of the Fund to successfully acquire Investments and may also adversely affect the performance of the Properties.

Insurance May Not Cover All Losses. The Fund will cause the Property Manager to endeavor to obtain coverage of the type and in the amount customarily obtained by owners of similar properties, including comprehensive casualty insurance, liability and fire and extended coverage, in amounts sufficient to permit replacement in the event of a total loss, subject to applicable deductibles. There are certain types of losses, however, generally of a catastrophic nature, resulting from, for example, earthquakes, floods, hurricanes and terrorist acts, that may be uninsurable or that may not be economically insurable. Inflation, changes in building codes and ordinances, environmental considerations, provisions in loan documents encumbering the portfolio properties pledged as collateral for loans and other factors also might make it economically impractical to use insurance proceeds to replace improvements on a Property if it is damaged or destroyed. Under such circumstances, the insurance proceeds received, if any, might be inadequate to restore the investment with respect to the affected Property.

Risks Upon Disposition of Investments. In connection with the disposition of a Property, the Fund may be required to make representations about the investment typical of those made in connection with the sale of any property. The Fund may also be required to compensate the purchasers of such Property to the extent that any such representation turns out to be incorrect, inaccurate or misleading. These arrangements may result in contingent liabilities, which might ultimately have to be funded by the Fund or its partners (the Partnership among them).

Possible Adverse Tax Consequences. No representation or warranty of any kind is made with respect to the tax consequences of an investment in the Partnership or to the allocation of taxable income or loss or distributions therefrom. Potential investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors with respect to the tax consequences to them of an investment in the Partnership. Potential investors investing through Feeder II or Feeder IIA should not be liable to return filing obligations in the United States and should not be liable to pay tax on the income of the Partnership. Instead, the blocker entities described below will file the required tax returns and pay the relevant taxes. Because Feeder II and Feeder IIA will invest through such blocker entities, the potential investors in Feeder II and Feeder IIA will not be entitled to the reduced long term capital gains tax rate that may apply to individuals investing in certain assets in the United States. Only potential investors in Feeder I may be eligible to such reduced capital gains tax rates on capital gains of the Partnership, if such potential investors make their investment in Feeder I as individuals for US federal income tax purposes. The blocker entities are set up as entities that are subject to tax as corporations for US federal income tax purposes. Public L. 115-97 (the "Tax Reform"), which was enacted recently, introduced significant changes to the Internal Revenue Code that may have an effect among other things on the tax rates and rules applicable to the blocker entities, fund's entities and the investors and the deductibility of certain items. Many provisions of such law are not clear and guidance may not be issued or may be issued but may be adverse to the tax position of the blocker entities and the investors. Thus, the tax consequences of the investments may not be certain. While the Partnership may restructure its investments to mitigate tax exposures, it is not clear whether such restructuring will enable the Partnership to avoid certain adverse tax consequences under the rules of the Tax Reform.

In addition, potential investors through Feeder II and Feeder IIA should be aware that the tax consequences of the capital structure employed by Feeder II and Feeder IIA in respect of its investment in certain blockers entities (i.e., entities that are corporation for federal income tax purposes) are not entirely clear. The IRS may characterize certain payments of interest and principal as dividends or otherwise disagree that the interest paid to Feeder II is not subject to withholding tax. While Feeder II intends to follow its tax advisors' recommendations as to the level of debt and rate of interest thereon, the IRS may disagree with the analysis of such tax advisors. Furthermore, Feeder III may distribute in kind its interests in certain entities that elect REIT status, in redemption of interests of certain Limited Partners. While Feeder III intends to follow advice of tax advisors to Feeder III, there is no assurance that the IRS or the courts will consent to the tax consequences believed by Feeder III or such Limited Partner to apply to Limited Partners an indirect interest in such REIT. Finally, the Israeli tax consequences of income and gains from the Partnership are not entirely clear. It is possible that the Israeli taxing authority will claim that certain or all income from the Partnership, including capital gains and interest, should be subject to ordinary income tax rates. Furthermore, the taxing authority expressed its view that dividends from REITs should be taxable as ordinary income. It is not clear whether such view applies to dividends paid by a REIT to the Limited Partners. It is not possible to predict how Israeli courts will rule on any of these positions, if such position would be litigated.

Exculpation and Indemnification of the General Partner and certain other persons. The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner, the Principals, any Liquidating Trustee, and certain other persons shall not be liable for any act or omission relating to the Partnership, so long as such act or omission is not adjudged to constitute Disabling Conduct. Therefore, a Limited Partner may have more limited rights of action than it would have, absent the inclusion of the relevant provisions in the Partnership Agreement. In addition, the Fund is required to indemnify such persons for claims relating to the Fund unless a court shall have determined that the Damages resulted primarily from the relevant person's Disabling Conduct. In the event the Fund must indemnify one or more persons, significant resources of the Fund may be expended in meeting such obligations. Furthermore, Partners may be required to return a portion of the distributions received thereby from the Fund in the event that the assets of the Fund are inadequate to meet its indemnification obligations.

Absence of Regulatory Oversight. While the Partnership may be considered similar to a joint investment trust or mutual fund, it does not intend to register as such under the Israeli Joint Investment in Trust Act or similar non-Israeli laws, in reliance upon exemptions available to privately offered investment companies, and, accordingly, the provisions of those laws will not be applicable to the Partnership or its Partners.

Side Agreements. The General Partner may enter into a side letter or other similar agreement with a particular Limited Partner in connection with its admission to the Partnership without the approval of any other Limited Partner. Such letter or agreement could have the effect of establishing rights under or altering or supplementing the terms of the Partnership Agreement with respect to such Limited Partner in a manner more favorable to such Limited Partner than those applicable to other Limited Partners. Any rights or terms so established in a side letter with a Limited Partner will govern solely with respect to such Limited Partner.

Potential Conflicts of Interests

Conflicts in General. Potential investors should be aware that, in connection with the current and potential future activities of the General Partner and the Principals, the investment and business interests of the interest holders thereof and such individuals may conflict with the investment and business interests of the Partnership and its partners. In addition, potential conflicts exist with respect to investment decisions within the Fund to the extent that taxable and tax-exempt investors, or U.S. and non-U.S. investors, have divergent economic, tax and other interests. The following paragraphs detail certain of the potential conflicts of interest that should be carefully considered before making an investment in the Partnership.

Time Commitments. The General Partner expects the General Partner's management team to be actively involved in the management of the Partnership and the Fund and the Fund's management company's management team to be actively involved in acquiring, managing and disposing of assets of the Fund and in providing other services to the Fund. However, certain members of the General Partner's and the management company's management teams may have conflicts in allocating their time and services among the Fund, Related Entities, and other ventures. Thus, while it is anticipated that members of such management teams will devote as much time to the Fund as is required under the Fund's Partnership Agreement, certain members of such management teams may have to devote a substantial amount of time to matters other than the Fund.

Affiliate Transactions. The General Partner intends, on behalf of and at the expense of the Fund, to engage affiliates of the Fund's management company to provide for property management, and construction management, services. Furthermore, the General Partner intends, on behalf of the Fund, to enter into loan agreements with the General Partner, the Special Limited Partner or their Affiliates in order to purchase investments prior to the Initial Closing or thereafter. The fees or other compensation payable for such services or loans shall be on the terms set forth in the Partnership Agreement of the Partnership and the Fund.

Management Fee Payable Regardless of Fund Performance. The management fee shall be paid to the management company of the Fund even if the Fund experiences net losses in a particular year or over the term of the Fund.

Carried Interest Distributions. The fact that the compensation to the general partner of the Fund is, in part, based on the performance of the Fund may create an incentive for the general partner of the Fund to cause the Fund to make investments that are more speculative than would be the case in the absence of performance-based compensation.
